Antioch residents can donate items for victims

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

With damage in the billions of dollars and scores of people homeless, the American people have rallied around and are helping the disaster-torn people of South Florida and Louisiana. Antioch is no exception.

Using the same momentum used to build the playground in Centennial Park earlier this year, a number of Antioch residents have signaled the rally cry and gathered their efforts at Keith Johnson
Realty World to set up an Antioch Relief
Drop Off Point for non-perishable items needed in the disaster zone.

"We wanted to help out and we are trained to solicit for business," said E.
Marie Beckman, who serves as a trainer and manager at Johnson Realty. "So now we are using our training to solicit donations."

The whole office staff has volunteered part of their workday to the relief effort which began on Aug. 31.

Sales Associate Sue Cherry, who has been promoting the effort to as many media outlets as possible, was able to even get the effort placed on the scoreboard at the Chicago Cubs vs. Los Angeles Dodgers game at Wrigley Field Monday night. "I just called the media department and they took my information," said Cherry.

The main goal of the effort, said the Office's Broker Marcia Banike, is to a convenient place for Antioch residents to bring needed supplies so they can get them into the hands of someone in need.

efforts in Florida and Louisiana. Realty staffers from left to right are: Barb

New ACHS teachers deal included some concessions

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Maybe it's the economic climate in this country, but the new contract signed last week for Antioch High School teachers looks like a compromise between the school board and the teachers' union.

The new contract, which really is an extension to the previous, will give the teachers the 3.98 percent salary increase they looked for, but will ask more of them in the future.

According to Superintendent Dr. Robert Schley, the contract was ratified by the teachers' union on Aug. 19 and the school board passed the contract at its meeting on Aug. 20.

For their salary increase, said Schley, the teachers will be required to increase

Tennis, Anyone?

Angela Seitz, 14, rockets a tennis ball at her sister, Jenny, 12, as they take advantage of the remaining days of summer. Area residents have little time remaining before fall comes raging into Lake County and cool temperatures preside. This past summer has been unusually wet and cool. According to the National Weather Service, residents should expect more of the same this fall. —

Village hopes for park grant OK

WADSWORTH—Village officials are hopeful the Illinois Department of Conservation will look favorably on a request for a $189,000 matching grant. An IDOC representative visited 13-acre site surrounding village hall. An IDOC decision of whether the plan merits a board hearing will be made in October or November.

Former clerk will return money, tapes

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Former Village Clerk Donna Langel, 52, has been sentenced for stealing more than $15,000 in village water bill collections last November and December. She will be on probation 30 months, make full restitution of $16,454, undergo mental health and alcoholic counseling, do 200 hours of community service and return tapes of secretly-recorded village hall telephone conversations. The sentence was negotiated in the court of Judge John Goshgarian. If Langel violates any of the conditions she is subject to six months in jail. She pleaded guilty to official misconduct for taking more than $50,000 in village receipts, most of it in the form of checks.

Boards ponder development plans

GRAYSLAKE—Plans for 667-acres of property off of Routes 45, 120 and 137 are expected to be unveiled before Grayslake boards Sept. 8. The plan commission and zoning board of appeals are expected to hear plans for land now owned by Prairie Holdings, a Lake County based corporation. "The bulk of the land is R-1," Grayslake Village Manager Mike Ellis said. Two other zones, one of a shopping center and another for limited industrial, are also being sought.

Three generations opened new bank

LIBERTYVILLE—Three generations of Wonderlics and Clonts participated in the groundbreaking ceremony that officially announced the opening of Libertyville Bank. The new bank is a branch of the Richmond Bank that the two families already own. The bank is located across the street from Adler Park on Milwaukee Avenue and is open for business.

Emergency fund for fire victims started

WAUCONDA—In efforts to help the LaPointe family get back on their feet, neighbor Bob Schaeve and officers on the Williams Park Improvement Association have opened an Emergency fund in the family's name at Wauconda National Bank. On Aug. 21, a call was put in to the Wauconda Fire Department for a house fire at 28641 N. Main St. in Williams Park. The fire destroyed the entire home and all the possessions therein. Another fire occurred at the same address about three hours later. Firemen suspect the fires were set. The LaPointe family, a mother and two girls, were in Kentucky on vacation at the time of the fires. Neighbors hope that residents will donate clothing, money, anything that will help the family get back on their feet. Neighbor Bob Schaeve can be reached at 526-2259 for any information.

Police file sex abuse charges

GRAYSLAKE—Grayslake Police Department is investigating several reported incidents of aggravated criminal sexual abuse as reported by the victim, a male juvenile. The alleged offender, Rosemary L. Smith, age 34, of Wildwood, has been charged with three counts of aggravated criminal sexual abuse and released from custody on a $40,000 recognizance bond awaiting trial. Conrad Gutraj of the Grayslake police department said the incidents came to the department's attention Aug. 24 with charges filed the next day. No court date has been set.

Drug-prevention powwow

Micki Jones, left, explains a drug-abuse-prevention program to County Board Chairman Robert Depke during an open house at a new addiction-counseling center for western Lake County. Politicians and education officials turned out last week to show support for the center, part of the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse. NICASA will honor its top volunteers at a dinner Sept. 15 at Lamb's Farm in Libertyville.—Photo by Bill Carey

Apples take center stage at Quig's Orchard Cafe

Everything's coming up apples at Quig's, 300 S. Rte. 83 in Mundelein, and the Orchard Cafe is just the place to sample the harvest.

In addition to its usual homemade vittles for breakfast or lunch, the Orchard Cafe is featuring apple dishes: pancakes, waffles, pies, turnovers and strudel. And, there's more: caramel apples, cider — and yes — apple cider shakes.

"They're delicious — they're really refreshing," Marion Quig said of the cider shakes.

Quig's will be open seven days a week from Labor Day through Columbus Day so fans of the Orchard can pick their own or buy pre-picked apples. Paula Reds are already available, and the MacIntosh season just started Sept. 3. The rest of the season openings include Jonathans (Sept. 17), Red Delicious (Sept. 24), Golden Delicious and Rome Beauties (Oct. 1).

Pick-your-own apples are 45 cents a pound with a 20-pound minimum. The orchard is now open from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

For many folks, it's a family affair and a delight for the kids.

"It's a yearly outing for a lot of people

— they come from miles and miles around," Marion said.

The Orchard Cafe is open year-round. The breakfast menu offers a wide range of omelets and other egg combinations, biscuits and gravy, pancakes, waffles — if you want it — Quig's probably has it. A favorite is the Eggs Benedict: an English muffin topped with smoked ham, two eggs and a mild cheddar sauce. American fries are included.

The lunch menu features a long list of sandwiches served on freshly baked breads and rolls, salads, soups and desserts.

"It's homemade stuff," Marion said. "As much as possible is made from scratch."

Quig's is celebrating its 45th anniversary. The family-owned-and-operated business was started by Bob Quig and his mother and father, Mildred and Henry.

The Orchard Cafe is open from 7 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. (Sundays from 7:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.) Drinks and desserts are still available after 2:30 p.m.

Quig's is located one-quarter of a mile north of Midlothian Road. Call (708) 566-4520.

St. Peter's welcomes its first Kindergartners

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

As the fall begins to cool the season's weather, St. Peter's School is feeling the warmth that only the excitement and zest for life that only a five-year-old can bring. The school's first kindergarten class ever is now in session at the Antioch school.

'A kindergarten class is a real asset to a school.'

—Joanne Pinto

The new kindergarten class, which is taught by new St. Peter's teacher Linda Esser, who is a St. Peter alumna, is part of a new program that is designed to develop a school family association by combining activities within the parish, said St. Peter's Principal Joanne Pinto.

"Many of our present students have gone to other schools for kindergarten and we just felt it was time to offer a full-day kindergarten class," said Pinto. "But it didn't just happen. There was a lot of research that went into beginning our new kindergarten class."

According to Pinto, parents have historically wanted a kindergarten class at St. Peter's. "A kindergarten class is a real asset to a school," said Pinto.

The typical school day for the new students begins at 8:40 a.m. where basic skills, math and religion are taught among various breaks, snacks, a hot lunch, a nap or quiet time, and recess before the kids are released to go home in the afternoon.

New kindergarten teacher Linda Esser, an alumna of St. Peter's School, uses a flannel board to teach shapes and counting to the first kindergarten class in St. Peter's history.—Photo by Thomas Stevens.

"Parents who work really need the security of knowing where their children are while they are at work," said Pinto. "This full-day program, which develops them both academically and socially, is working well so far."

The proof of how well the program is working could be how the rest of the school has reacted to the little ones in their school.

"The children have just been a joy," said Pinto. "The enthusiasm of 5-year-olds has just taken over our school."

According to Pinto, she is not the only one who is pleased. "One parent, who has a boy and a girl in the kindergarten class, said that their children are so happy to be in the kindergarten class. They are very happy."

What really helps the whole school work, which is part of the Chicago Arch Diocese School system, according to Pinto, is that St. Peter's students are treated like they are family.

"We are all family," said Pinto.

ACHS announces changes to NHS selection

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

The process for selection of students to the Antioch Community High School chapter of the National Honor Society has changed for the 1992-93 school year.

Junior and senior students who have a 4.0 or better cumulative grade point involved for a longer period of time.

"We plan to have the members work on service projects which will benefit the school and the community," said Schmitt. "The current NHS members and those selected this fall will play a large part in defining how the group will accomplish that goal."

The NHS faculty council, a committee appointed by Principal Michael Radakovich, is overseeing the selection process. Letter have been mailed to prospective candidates' parents and a meeting to receive instructions regarding the application process will occur on Sept. 10.

average will be considered for selection this fall. Induction into the society will be in November.

"Membership in National Honor Society is an honor bestowed upon students who excel in not only scholarship, but also leadership, service and character," said NHS Advisor Sue Schmitt.

In addition to the change in the selection process, plans are in the works to make ACHS-NHS an active organization on the campus. Electing students at the beginning of their junior or senior year, instead of in the fall as in years past, will enable students to be

Antioch resident elected president of local chapter

Lorrie Lesza-Kowalczyk

An Antioch resident has been elected president of the local chapter of a major telecommunications organization.

Lorrie Lesza-Kowalczyk, an Illinois Bell employee, has been elected the 1992-93 president of the Lakeland Council of Theodore N. Vail Suburban Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

The Telephone Pioneers of America is the largest voluntary association on industrial employees and has over 810,000 members.

Last year, the Telephone Pioneers generated almost 29 million hours of community service and environmental work.

"We just couldn't watch the news and not do something about what is going on down there," said Banike.

According to Banike, the Red Cross requests canned non-perishable food items, bottled water, clothing items, and hygiene and toiletry items.

"They are also requesting non-power hand tools like screwdrivers and hammers," said Cherry.

All donations to the Antioch office will be turned over to the Red Cross for proper distribution.

"We just wanted to do something for those people," said Cherry.

Keith Johnson Realty World is located at 508 North Ave. and is accepting donated items from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

supervision time. "The increase reflects that we are asking them to do more work."

Schley added that the teachers' union and the school board agreed that the standard of living index, the amount salaries must be increase to keep up with inflation, rose between 2.9 and 3.1 percent.

"We have doubled the staff's supervision time from one semester to all year," said Schley. This supervision would include all areas where student need supervision, like hallways, studyhall and the library.

In addition to increased supervision time, the teacher will be asked to pay more for their health insurance and a two-year early retirement incentive plan has been implemented by the ratification of this contract.

The contract agreement has increased the teachers deductible on their health insurance from $200 to $250. "This just means that it will cost them an additional $50 before their coverage starts," said Schley.

The only language change from the previous contract was on the issue of early retirement. The new agreement will give teachers the incentive to retire within two years after reaching retirement age.

"We will boost their salary 20 percent if they retire the first year they are eligible or 12 percent the second year after they have reached retirement age as incentive to retire," said Schley. "If they wait until the third year to retire, they will not get a bonus."

The early retirement program will enable the district to replace retiring teachers with new teachers, creating upward mobility within the school.

The only six-week negotiation process and concessions on both sides proved to Schley the willingness of both sides to get the job done before school started on Aug. 25. This was a goal Schley had when he took over as Superintendent of District 117 on July 1.

"Both sides worked hard to get this done in a reasonable amount of time," said Schley. "I'm not surprised that it got done before the start of school."

The Lizzard gives visitors a warm Antioch welcome

Welcome

I would like to extend a warm Antioch welcome to Esther and Cliff Bergstrom who will be visiting our area from Tucson, Ariz. during the week of Sept. 4. Esther and Cliff were originally from Arlington Heights and Fox Lake and have lived in Arizona for approximately nine years now. They usually come to town on a yearly basis to visit their family and friends. This time their visit is going to be made even more special with a huge surprise birthday party planned for Cliff by his adult children. The party will be held at his daughter Lori's beautiful home in Mc Henry. Cliff's birthday is Sept. 5 and he will be blankity, blank years young.

Also very excited over the arrival of the Bergstroms are their son and daughter-in-law, Antioch residents, Steve and Mary Turner and their three special grandchildren Andy, Kaite and Matthew Turner. So, Bergstroms, welcome to Antioch. Happy birthday, Cliff and enjoy reading this in

"Hometown Goodies" when Mary and Steve present it to you as part of your special birthday celebration. Quick service

We recently had a slight gas leak in the natural gas line leading to our house. We called the Northern Illinois Gas Company and informed them of the problem. They were on the scene in less than thirty minutes. A nice gentleman used various mechanical devices to determine where the leak was and then called in his findings to the company.

Again within thirty minutes the repair crew was on the scene. They determined where the line ran from the outside service, under the road and across the lawn. They then marked it with bright paint, dug a small hole near the road and another even smaller hole near the house. They pulled out the damaged line, put in the new one, raised the existing meter, repainted it and neatly refilled the two small holes. Not only were they prompt and efficient they were also thorough in their attempts to put things back as they found them. I want to commend Northern Illinois Gas on their prompt, efficient and neat service.

Real life hero

Daddy, Ed Harrison, promised his seven year old daughter and six year old son a campfire one evening in August. When the sun began to go down they all time for Katie's diaper change.

So now the little ones and bigger ones have returned to school to advance further with their education. Due to the rain and cold weather the summer seemed to slip by even faster than normal. Maybe our brief summer will mean we will have an extended Indian Summer, a mild winter and an early spring—one can always hope.

As is tradition with "Hometown Goodies," a new month brings with it a new birthday list. Happy September birthday to—Wendy Charvat, Tara Christopolus, Becky Clarke, Amy Dembinski, Carrie Dunfrund, Laura Edelman, Irene Falcone, Nick Falcone, Sandy Forst, Neil Hansen, David Izenstark, Danny Jorudd, Jessica Lehmann, Lauren Lichter, Bradley Lindstrom, Wayne Olsen Sr., Marian Rohde, Bob Schmehl, Phil Smerz, Lorraine Smiles, Eileen Stann, Howard Stann, Nicholas Staten, Amy Terry, Kaite Turner, Al Vandrush, Reneé Vaughan, Sandy Webel and yours truly.

went outside to begin their special family adventure. They piled the wood just so, gathered their chairs around and started the fire. A short while after the fire was glowing brightly, mother nature decided to rain "on their parade!" However, this didn't stop Ed, Blake and Brittany, as they were determined to continue enjoying the day-long anticipated campfire. They merely rounded up three umbrellas and went back outside to enjoy the beauty and warmth of the fire. Luckily Ed had it going so well it even survived under nature's sprinkling can.

As they sat around enjoying father/children conversation, Ed explained he had a magic way to keep the fire burning in the rain. When the persistent rain

Blake and Brittany will never forget the night when dad kept the fire going by magic. They will have a wonderful story to tell their own children in years to come. He promised them a fire and like their own special real life hero he came through, even with mother nature against him! Just one more example of how little it takes to make children happy.

They arrived at my home in a mid-size car. No matter how we twisted and turned the table we could not get it in the back seat and the trunk was even less roomy than that.

Eventually Dee figured out how to partially disassemble it and then fit three quarters of it nicely into the back seat. I suggested they take the last section on their next visit. However, Dee was determined that little Katie would be changed on the table that day. She sat in the front seat holding the huge cube on her lap and propped a library book up between her and the cube to read on the road. They drove merrily on their way with Dee crunched in the passenger seat as hubby/grandpa Joe began the long drive to Cicero. It had to be a long fifty miles, but they made it just in

Antioch has tough battle to reach playoffs again

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Yes indeed sportsfans, it is here again. The beginning of school represents the beginning of the high school football season and the Antioch Community High School Sequoits are ready to make a run at another playoff appearance.

With the success of last year's squad, which had a 6-3 regular-season record and earned a berth in the Class 5A state playoffs, Head Coach Del Pechauer hopes this year's team has gained some experience from last year's playoff appearance.

"The seniors, we have now, have learned from the playoff exposure we had last year," said Pechauer. "We will try to get back (to the playoffs)."

But that maybe easier said than done. With the loss of Antioch standouts Tim and Tom Lehn to graduation, and stronger competition within the North Suburban Conference, the Sequoits have their work cut out for them when they travel to Libertyville Saturday, Sept. 5 for the season opener.

"We will be a middle of the pack team up this year," said Pechauer. "But, you never know what will happen until the season starts."

Not knowing is exactly what Pechauer means when he talks about this year's team, which will have several question marks at key positions when the season begins.

For openers, the team is still searching for a starting quarterback to lead the Sequoit offense. Leadership could come from Senior Eric Newcomb if he wins the job. If not, then Junior Casey O'Connell will call the plays for Antioch.

Other offensive contributors, according to Pechauer, will be running backs Rick Leukhardt, a junior, and Larry Janke, a senior.

In addition to the quarterback question, Pechauer is still looking for a leader on the defensive side of the football.

"We are looking for a leader to step up and take charge," said Pechauer. "Things are looking better on defense."

This leadership could come from cornerback Janke, or senior linebacker Dave Remter. "The defense has gotten better as camp has progressed," said Pechauer. "We had to call off the dogs during one practice last week. We are ready to play."

Overall though, Pechauer expects his team to be competitive despite his team's question marks and tough schedule, which includes battles with Lake Forest, Warren and Zion-Benton.

"It is going to be an exciting year for Antioch," said Pechauer.

Grocery store monopoly

I'm calling about the new commercial center at Grand Avenue and Hunt Club Road in Warren Township. Gurnee residents please attend those public hearings. One concern is speculation that they are negotiating a supermarket (either Jewel or Dominick's) in the development, but no store has been named as yet. Before Jewel decided to open a new store in Waukegan at Green Bay Road, their proposal to open in Gurnee was refused. There is a local grocery store monopoly in Gurnee. We do not need another supermarket in Gurnee with a local name. Negotiations work smoothly in Gurnee because you have a village administrator that is a brother-in-law to the mayor. I would like to see a big-name supermarket in Gurnee, not a local-store monopoly. Also, the population growth in Gurnee warrants additional liquor licenses to be granted. Do we know who our liquor commissioners are in Gurnee and also Warren Township and Lake County? Check it out.

Read our lips

The Libertyville High School Administration is a bunch of sick, sore losers. Just because the voters defeated so soundly their tax increase, they have now dumped their mobile classrooms right on Route 176 right by the Brainerd Building where they are an eyesore to the community. These same buildings could have been over on the Lake campus where everybody would not have had to look at them all day long. I suggest that the Libertyville High School administration read our lips: "There ain't going to be any more school taxes." Cut out the service; kick the druggies out of school. Let's quit letting these kids sell dope and getting themselves pregnant. Instead, let's cut the frills out of education, and let's reduce taxes. There is no need for a lot of the classes they are holding over there in order to give these an adequate education to go on to college. Let's start classes an hour earlier and run an hour later. Let's run classes eleven months a year instead of nine--then you'll have all kinds of room in that high school. And, maybe while you are at it, get rid of a couple of the administrators and their $60,000 paychecks, as well.

Winning dancers

I'm calling to say "Congratulations" to the sophisticated ladies from the Dance Connection in Grayslake. They recently took a fourth place with their dance routine at the Lake County Fair, and they also just took first place at the Kenosha Fair. I applaud them for their hard work and their efforts.

Build a new school

I think that it is time that Lindenhurst and Lake Villa get their own high school. The reason being that Antioch wants to have a new high school, and all the Antioch residents would be taxed for this new school. I think that Antioch High School is big enough for all of the students that live in Antioch. It's time for Lindenhurst, since it's the subdivision city of the world, and Lake Villa to come up with their own high school and build it somewhere else. I think it would be a much better idea, and then the Lindenhurst and Lake Villa taxpayers could pay for it themselves.

Clean up our fests

Hi, I'm from Round Lake. Today I was on my way home, in a hurry, and was stopped for a half hour on 83 and Center Street in Grayslake because of the parade. Why can't they start that parade past 83? The traffic was backed up so far it was terrible. Then, tonight we went to the Grayslake Fest--what a terrible place for kids. Grayslake, clean up your act! Get some family entertainment. All we saw was a bunch of drunken, old, middle-aged men smoking and swearing and no lighting; it was a terrible time. These fests have got to be cleaned up. We want to have a nice, family atmosphere where there is no swearing, no icky people hanging around. Don't serve liquor at these fests. Wise up, you guys. We've got children that are going to be the future. We've got to be examples to them. We don't need any more drunken, middle-aged people hanging around.

Cut their pay

Antioch School District 117 has stated that they now have run up a debt of over $600,000 and are going to seek another referendum along with various fees to make up this deficit. This $600,000 shortage is in the education fund, where 70 percent is devoted to teacher-administrator salaries and benefits. How about some steep pay cuts from these people before turning to the overtaxed public again.

Postal non-service

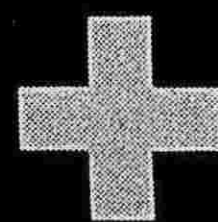

First, a compliment to this part of your newspaper. I'm calling in reference to the postal non-service someone wrote about in your column. I live in Round Lake Beach and can't complain about our mail delivery, but about getting that letter that goes from one point to another. I have written to the head of the postal service many times in regard to this. Since when does it take a week for a letter to be delivered from Chicago? Would you believe one time I received a card a year after it was mailed, and it only came from twenty minutes away. What happened to this wonderful automated service that was supposed to eliminate a lot of problems and make our postal system better? Now I hear that full-time workers will be laid off and part-time workers put on. What will happen to the postal service, as bad as it has already become? P.S. The Lake County museums and preserves are great places to spend some time. Not enough people know of the beautiful preserves we have in the Lake County area. The museum is a nice place to see the history of our area.

Don't annex

Why is Fox Lake annexing properties outside of Lake County? We don't need them. Those people are never counted in the census. They don't know which way to vote, and now it will raise our taxes because we are

New union leadership

As our nation prepares to observe another Labor Day, it is interesting to note that new leadership is entrenched in the labor movement, supplanting such historic leaders as the miners who were in the forefront in the 1930s, the railroaders during the 1940s and auto workers during the 50s and 60s.

Today, teachers are unionism's elite, unchallenged for organization, militancy and political power. In less than four decades, teachers have embraced traditional labor unionism while vaulting from decidedly lower pay to the top of public sector salaries, eclipsing nurses, police officers and firefighters.

Even as the union mantle of leadership is passed from one occupational field to another, indicators are surfacing that forecast a threat to leadership. Bluntly put, teachers may be pricing themselves out of the market.

There is evidence that school districts in Lake County, some of them possessing among the highest paid primary and secondary teachers in the nation, are replacing experienced, highly compensated teachers with inexperienced teachers who can be paid lower salaries that fit the budgets school boards are able to pay in the face of declining state aid and increasing taxpayer hostility. And they are doing this legally.

Does the leadership of the American Education Assn. and the American Federation of Teachers recognize what is happening? Do they appreciate the threat to their standing? American history is replete with union leaders who either ignored signs in the market place or woke up too late.

Saturation patrols work

There is close-at-hand evidence that saturation police patrolling still is a key component to coping with criminal activity. Law enforcement officers know the role of saturation patrols, but the concept for keeping the peace sometimes is lost on budget-cutting politicians and members of the public.

Zion recently took the opportunity of having five new patrolmen returning from academy training to beef up regular personnel in an effort to focus on a high crime apartment area known for drug dealing and unruly youth.

In two weeks of non-stop patrolling, citizens experienced a noticeable drop in drug dealing, general rowdiness and gun shots.

Saturation patrolling and the manpower it exerts on unlawful behavior isn't the only answer to fighting crime, but it's certainly a starting point as the Zion experience reaffirmed. Other communities may not have the crime problem of Zion, but the lesson of saturation patrols should not be lost when law breaking reaches a point where regular measures fall short of providing adequate public protection.

Watch the Big Apple

Lake County officialdom charged with solid waste disposal would do well to follow the progress of an Illinois company's job of developing New York City's first modern solid waste incinerator.

Wheelabrator Technologies has been awarded a contract to build a $450 million trash-to-energy incinerator and recycling facility which will burn an estimated 300 tons of waste per day. Construction will begin in 1996. The plant is targeted to go on-line in 1999.

Despite cries about air pollution, incineration hasn't been written off here, but burning as an option to process solid waste definitely has taken a back seat to stepped up recycling efforts and reliance on landfills in local deliberations. That's too bad because modern incineration technology all but has eliminated air pollution hazards.

Now there is someone else to "break trail." Skeptics undoubtedly will say that New York City's air already is as bad as it can get so a little more pollution won't make any difference. That's a silly response to the serious problem of solid waste disposal that only is getting more complicated.

Let's keep our eye on New York City. Wish the Big Apple success!

Fill gap with tuition

Editor:
A parent wrote that K-12 education was supposed to be free. The added tuition fees were not right.

I looked at my tax bill and found that Woodland School cost us $982.24 and Warren High School $628.39, a total of $1,710.62. Education is not free.

If parents want more for their children, why not charge tuition of several hundred dollars per child? Taxes of $1,710.62 are enough from us.

Building job resume

Editor:
I suppose it is possible, with Grayslake turning into Schaumburg, that our parks administrator feels we need to enter "the big time." Or maybe he simply doesn't understand what is important to most families.

My darker side, however, suspects that his real motivation is that he has his eye on a bigger and better job in a larger community.

Producing an event like this year's festival can be an impressive notch in one's resume. If this is the case, I'll make a deal with him right now.

If he will call off the next two years of hyped-up festival, and turn it back into a community event, I'll write him him one hell of a letter of recommendation.

Bureaucratic bungling

Editor:
A referendum on the ballot to pay teachers up to $55.10 per hour is not the solution. Solutions are:

1. Make the budget cuts that should have been made when the budget shortfall was brought to the surface. This will make the school solvent. If the teacher cuts aren't implemented the school should go into receivership.
2. The school board hasn't learned not to spend money they don't have and learn to spend and live within their means, like the taxpayers do.
3. Get off the financial watch list.
4. Pay off the tax anticipation warrants and stop borrowing against the future.

5. With many nine month teachers making up to over $69,000 in 1991-92, make the necessary cuts now to eliminate the estimated $600,000 deficit.

6. No referendum would be required if the top heavy administration were reduced. The taxpayers will not and should not pay 75 cents per $100 of a equalized as-

Railroad yarn spins around 'Old Maud'

by BILL SCHROEDER

Railroading fans and local history buffs will have a field day with a new book chronicling a fascinating era of Lake County when entrepreneurs tried and succeeded in some cases to link the county's growing number of villages with steam and electric railways.

Richard Whitney of Wauconda has done a great job in pulling together the story of early railroading in "Old Maud, the Story of the Palatine, Lake Zurich & Wauconda Railroad," just off the press. Whitney, who researched 30 years, assembled a highly readable, beautifully illustrated story of local history.

My interest in the PLZ&W, as the short line came to be known, was piqued as an eight-year-old upon noticing a couple of rails crossing old Rand Rd. south of Wauconda while on a drive with my grandparents a zillion years ago. Grandpa Meyer explained, "A railroad used to go through here. That's all that's left of it." Now Whitney tells the whole story.

"Old Maud" was the name of the line's first locomotive. PLZ&W operations were intertwined for a time with another Lake County rail venture, the Waukegan, Rockford & Elgin Traction Company, that was envisioned linking small towns like Gurnee, Grayslake, Antioch, Round Lake, Long Lake and Fox Lake to a "major" electric line serving important northern Illinois cities. A 1900 visionary sparked county rail interest by organizing the Waukegan, Fox Lake & Western Railway, but tracks failed to reach Gurnee before the company folded.

Plans for modern suburban commuting have an eerie sameness about them compared to those turn-of-the-century efforts. I'd love to see Whitney reconstruct the history of other local railroads that form an exciting part of our heritage.

LOOK INWARD---We can thank our Arkansas correspondent, retired Lakeland Newspapers writer Helen Anderson, for some insightful thoughts on getting acquainted in a new community. Helen responded to comments in Lakeland's popular Lipservice column about Antioch and some other county towns being "unfriendly."

Take a look at your own attitude, related Helen, who now is a village trustee of Gravette, Ark. "I remember being stationed at Great Lakes and thinking the Lake County area was an unfriendly place back in the early 50s. Then another swabbie gave me a good piece of advice, 'Try going to church off the base.'"

"What I found was that it wasn't the people in the area who were unfriendly. It was my attitude. I got off the base in some of my free time, and found activities in the area I could participate in. And everywhere we have lived I've used the same philosophy."

Helen hasn't lost her keen news since. Two years ago she tipped off Viewpoint that the Arkansas governor would be a candidate for President in 1992. She didn't make any predictions, though.

GOES WITH TURF---All his years in the Navy didn't prepare Rear Adm. Mack C. Gaston, new commander of Great Lakes Naval Training Center, for one of his new duties. That's writing a weekly newspaper column. Adm. Gaston, who has been at his new post a little more than a week, inherited "Ask the Admiral," from his predecessor, Rear Adm. J.W. Partington, who retired. One of the most popular features in the Great Lakes Bulletin, official base newspaper, the column is a forum of questions from base personnel about life at Great Lakes which the admiral and his staff answer. "Ask the Admiral" is must reading for everyone at the base, civilians included. Welcome to Lake County, Adm. Gaston.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY---Uncle Bill and Aunt Carol brought first-hand reports of Hurricane Andrew's wrath when they fled Florida. Northern Illinois looks mighty enticing to anyone who has ever "sat out" raging winds. Although they were 60 miles from the path of devastation, shutters were torn off their home and fencing was knocked down. During the brunt of the storm, even residents on the fringe areas were imprisoned in their homes while the gale howled. We're enjoying their visit and in a small way, doing a bit to provide refuge.

Scared by Republicans

Editor:

No group tows the party line more than Lake County Republicans as is shown in recent letters to the editor, but before we elevate Bush to the level of a saint, let's ask some questions about how he has performed in the last four years.

Has he been the "Education President?" Is education better off than it was in 1988? Then why do so many Lake County schools have mobile classrooms?

Has he been the "Environmental President?" Then why does his own Kennebunk Port home have a waiver that allows direct discharge of sewage into the ocean? Why has the definition of wetlands been narrowed to allow more development?

Has he created a "kinder, gentler nation?" L.A. proved otherwise, or if you really think things are better overall, go take a walk in almost any Chicago neighborhood after 8 p.m., or simply read the crime reports as printed in Lakeland Newspapers.

In foreign policy, why is Hussein still in power? Or have you forgotten Bush's castigation of Hussein as a new Hitler just prior to the Gulf War. Did Bush bring down communism? No. The post-World War II competition between the U.S.S.R. and the United States was an economic competition, manifested by both industrial and military rivalry. We won the competition by spending ourselves into a tremendous debt, while the U.S.S.R. spent itself out of business.

Are we the strongest, richest, freest nation on earth? We would all like to think so, but Japan and the nations of Europe don't agree. Japan has a higher Gross Nation Product than does the United States. Our political influence in Europe is greatly diminished. Note that we can do what we want, militarily, in this hemisphere, but in other parts of the world we need consensus in order to act.

Free? Why isn't the abortion issue between the woman, her doctor, and God? Why are Blacks and Hispanics the most poorly educated, under employed groups in our country? Lake County Republicans, think for yourselves. This uncritical mouthing of the party line is scary.

High fees for lawyers

Editor:

On May 15, an altercation occurred at the Mundelein Community Park concession stand during the Mundelein Little League season between a board member and a parent. Subsequently on Aug. 19, the board member was found guilty of battery, in court.

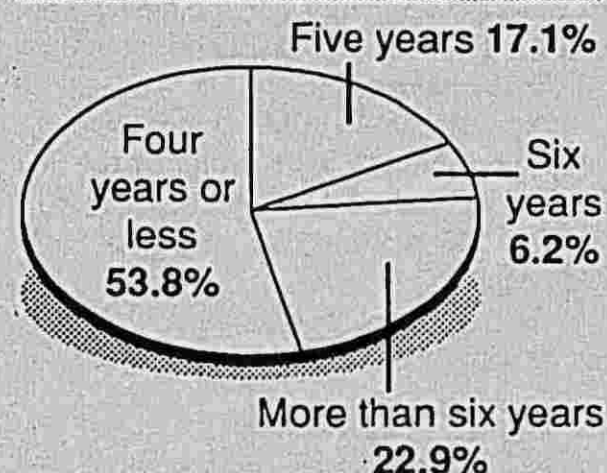

On June 16, I spoke on the phone with a party who represented himself as the Mundelein Little League president. I wanted to know why the board was willing to hear the board member's side of the incident, but I was never contacted by the league. He stated that if I would drop the battery charge (against the board member), the league would try to resolve the matter. He also stated that the Little League brings in lots of money, that he knows high-powered lawyers, and that he would really hate to see me get involved with something messy. I told him that I would not drop the charge no one has the right to injure anyone.

And if the Mundelein Little League brings in so much money, why do the fees go up? Hopefully it's not going to pay for a "high-powered lawyer?" It would be interesting to have a year-end financial report available to each Little League family so we can see if our monies have been wisely utilized by the Little League board members.

Three out of four employers say they need work place literate employees more than ever, yet only 35 percent test applicants for these basic skills.

Sixty-three percent of 1,328 employers know they have employees who cannot read, write or perform basic computations. Poor reading and writing skills cause over one-third of companies to regularly reject job applicants.

All of the above from one news article.

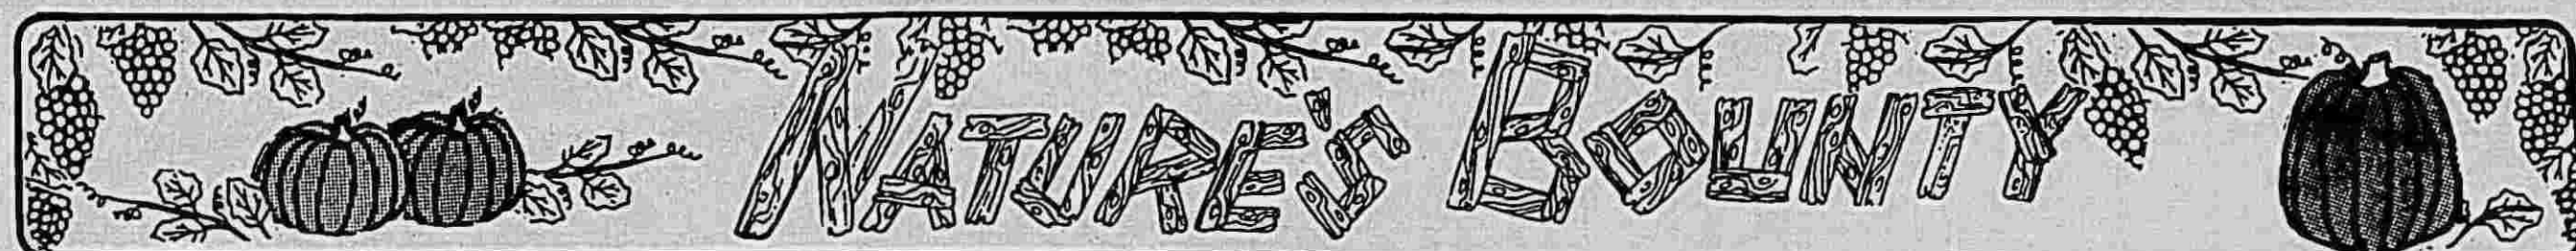

How can we expect to compete successfully with the Japanese whose level of basic skills is higher. Employers generally do not make use of high schools performance records in selecting employees and in effect tell students what you do in school is not important.

Our high schools continue to graduate students who are functionally illiterate in the work place and will not give meaning to a diploma by requiring a minimum competency test as a condition for graduation.

It costs about $7,000 a year for a high school education—$28,000 for four years—almost as much as education at some state universities. Don't we deserve better results for our money?

McRae tries to be kissing cousin

IT HAPPENED AGAIN

Round Lake Park Trustee Bob Wallen is ready to swear off summer vacations.

Last month he took the family to Ohio and Niagara Falls.

While gone, the mayor and village board demoted Village Clerk Star Southworth to a secretary.

After naming former Village Clerk Helen Puro to the new $9.50 an hour job of administrative assistant, Southworth does little more than take minutes at weekly village board meetings.

Almost the same happened two years ago. Wallen vacationed. Police Chief Eno Saldivar was canned.

"Damn! It happened again," he said of the latest coup.

KISSING IN PUBLIC

Colin McRae has a few credits: 12-year retired mayor of Mundelein, former Republican precinct committeeman, current member of the Lake County Board, member of the Lake County Health Board and point man for County Board Chairman Robert Depke.

But a gentleman he is not.

That's the opinion of at least one County Board colleague, Carol Calabresa of Libertyville.

It was reinforced at last month's County Board meeting. Members were discussing the firing of Health Dept. Director Steven Potsic.

Calabresa pointedly said the ouster was engineered by Depke and called it political. McRae over reacted.

"If you can prove I did anything wrong I'll kiss your behind at halftime on the 50 yard line of Sunday's Bears game," he said.

Calabresa was shocked. So are a lot of other people.

McRae, he's yet to apologize. Or show up at the next Bears game.

POLITICAL TRUCE

One of the friendliest political races on record is shaping up in County Board Dist. 18.

It pits Vernon Hills Trustee Pam Newton against Buffalo Grove resident Liz Fayer. Pam is the GOP standard bearer, Liz the Democrat.

So far they've agreed on no plastic bag door hangers, no klutzy trinkets and no literature war. They're negotiating sign and spending limits.

Fayer, the poorer of the two candidates, says signs are not environmentally friendly. The same for glossy mailing pieces like Newton used in the spring primary.

Newton has lots of money, backing and resources if she wants to call on them.

Fayer, a part-time College of Lake County instructor, doesn't have that. This is her first foray into politics. She is also a health nut.

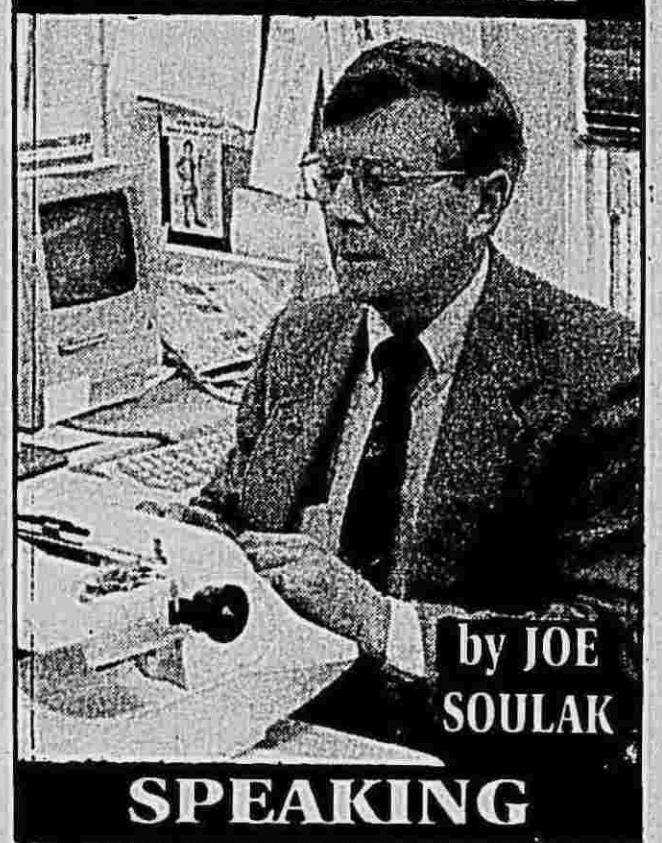

"What she does have going," one caller said, "is she's beautiful, brawny, brainy and sophisticated."

10,000 new voters added

Lake County Clerk Linda Hess announced that 10,000 new voters have been added to the voter registration rolls since early summer. "We're absolutely delighted with the figure, and the interest in the upcoming presidential election," Hess said.

"The credit for these figures goes to all the 1,469 deputy registrars in Lake County representing business, labor, education civic groups and political parties who are volunteering their time every week to sign up residents to vote. They deserve a big hand for reaching 40 percent of our 25,000 voter goal this early."

Hess says she's appointed 179 new registrars since May to help in the effort. "Our goal is 200 new registrars, and we're almost there."

Individuals who want to register or have moved in the last year and need to change their address can call 360-6628 for more information on the nearest place of registration.

Voter registration closes on Oct. 5.

Civil War revisited

Reenactment slated for Sept. 12-13

Nearly 130 years ago, guns fired and cannons shot at the Battle of Bull Run. It was the beginning of the Civil War. Some believe the war began to save the union, some believe it began to save, or eliminate, slaves.

Whatever the reason, and there were many theories, America has come a long way since brothers fought against brothers. But for one weekend, Sept. 12 and Sept. 13, the public can call the museum to learn how to become a reenactor to participate this year by calling the Lake County Museum or watch a reenactment of the Civil War at the Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda.

Kris Breyer, inventor and organizer of the event, attempted to schedule the event for the 125th anniversary of the war, but Lake County Forest Preserve Commissioners were doubtful and the proposal did not pass.

"It took seven years to get the Lake County Forest Preserve Board to try it," Breyer said. "It was something that had never been done and it involved a lot of offices that had never worked together before."

Breyer has been a Civil War reenactor since the 1970s. Ten years ago she moved in next to the forest preserve and "it screamed out first-person historical events," she said.

It took three years of bringing horses and people to different events dressed in old-fashion clothing to convince the commissioners that this was an event people would be interested in. Horse-drawn carriages and formally dressed women would participate in events such as the winter walk program, holiday Sunday near Christmastime, old-fashion Sunday in September and pioneer days.

"The county began realizing that people enjoyed this and that it should be adopted into the program," Breyer said.

In 1989, the departments worked together to arrange the Civil War reenactment for its first year presentation.

"The first year the commissioners were flabbergasted," Breyer said. "Almost 3,000 people showed up to watch the event and about 100 reenactors attended. Then they asked if we would do it again the following year."

That first year, Civil War Days won a $700 grant from the Illinois Fine Arts Council, which never before had given a grant for a Civil War reenactment.

Last year, despite the "horrendous

by HEATHER McDONALD

weather," about 3,000 people attended and 300 reenactors participated in the event. The event received the 1991 Innovative Program Award from the Illinois Parks and Recreation Association.

"We're doing something right," Breyer said. This year, the event will try for graphics and promotional awards, according to Breyer.

The Lakewood Forest Preserve receives funding for the event from Harris Bank, the local Moose Lodge, Island Foods, Dunkin Donuts, the News-Sun, and other businesses throughout Lake County.

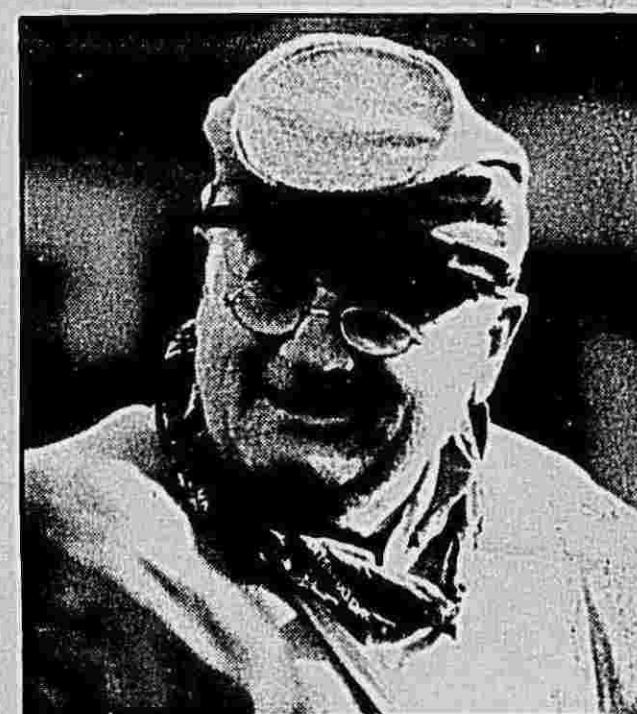

But Civil Wars Days is not an event that is centered on the Lake County area. The event is advertised in national reenactor magazines and many people come from around the nation to participate. Vendors who come to sell various "old-fashioned" goods come from as far away as Pennsylvania and Colorado to participate.

Performance artists from Michigan have called this year and asked to participate in the reenactment and a music group from Nashville, Tenn. who participated in previous years has asked to return, according to Breyer.

There are various levels of reenacting, Breyer said. People who are interested in a specific individual may present that individual to the public or a specific military unit, calvary unit, even a medical impression. Many of the unit presentations represent actual units raised in northern Illinois, according to Breyer.

"Research has been done to find out who was from this area, what they did, what unit they participated in and present that individual to the public in a reenactment," Breyer said.

Part of the reason Breyer believed the Civil War reenactment would be a good thing for Lake County is because of the scenery and the museum.

"The museum is there and if you want

'It took seven years to get the Lake County Forest Preserve Board to try it...then they asked if we could do it again.'

— Kris Breyer

people to learn about the history of Lake County, we needed to get events out there that people would attend," Breyer said. "It's the perfect place to hold interpretive, first-person historical events."

"We have commissioners who had never seen the Lakewood Forest Preserve, and they were amazed by the beauty," she added.

Breyer said that Civil War Days has been a big factor in letting people know about the museum and teaching them about the history of Lake County.

"This event has really drawn people to get involved with the museum," Breyer said. "We have had students say 'wow! this is better than our history books.' Students who have graduated from Wauconda High School have participated and said they've learned more from participating than they did in high school."

Aside from the reenactments, Civil War Days also offers a fashion show, various drills, competitions, tea and a military ball over the course of the two-day event. For more information or a schedule of events call 526-7878.

So long summer

With the long days of summer coming to an end, come an abundant supply of fresh vegetables picked off ripe vines and bushes and plucked from the patch. Here are some suggestions for you to use to capture the freshness and flavor of these summer treasures.

Pesto Sauce

If you've grown fresh basil in your herb garden this year, you're truly fortunate. The weather has been kind, and this crop is plentiful. Pesto sauce is made from basil leaves, parsley, garlic and Parmesan cheese. It's uses are many, but teamed with hot, cooked pasta is still my favorite. Do yourself a favor and try my recipe.

4-6 garlic cloves, chopped 1/4 c. chopped pine nuts, optional
16 large fresh basil leaves 1/2 c. salt
3 parsley sprigs 1/2 c. olive oil
6 T. Parmesan cheese

In electric blender, blend all ingredients except oil to make a smooth paste. Slowly, blend in oil and stir until mixed. Serve over hot pasta. Makes 3/4-1 cup

Chicken Satays with Peanut Dipping Sauce

These tasty kebabs make a great appetizer or main course for a barbecue. The peanut dipping sauce is a must to fully enjoy this ethnic treat.

Satays:

1/4 c. lemon juice 2 lbs. skinless, boneless chicken breasts,
3 T. oil cut into thin strips

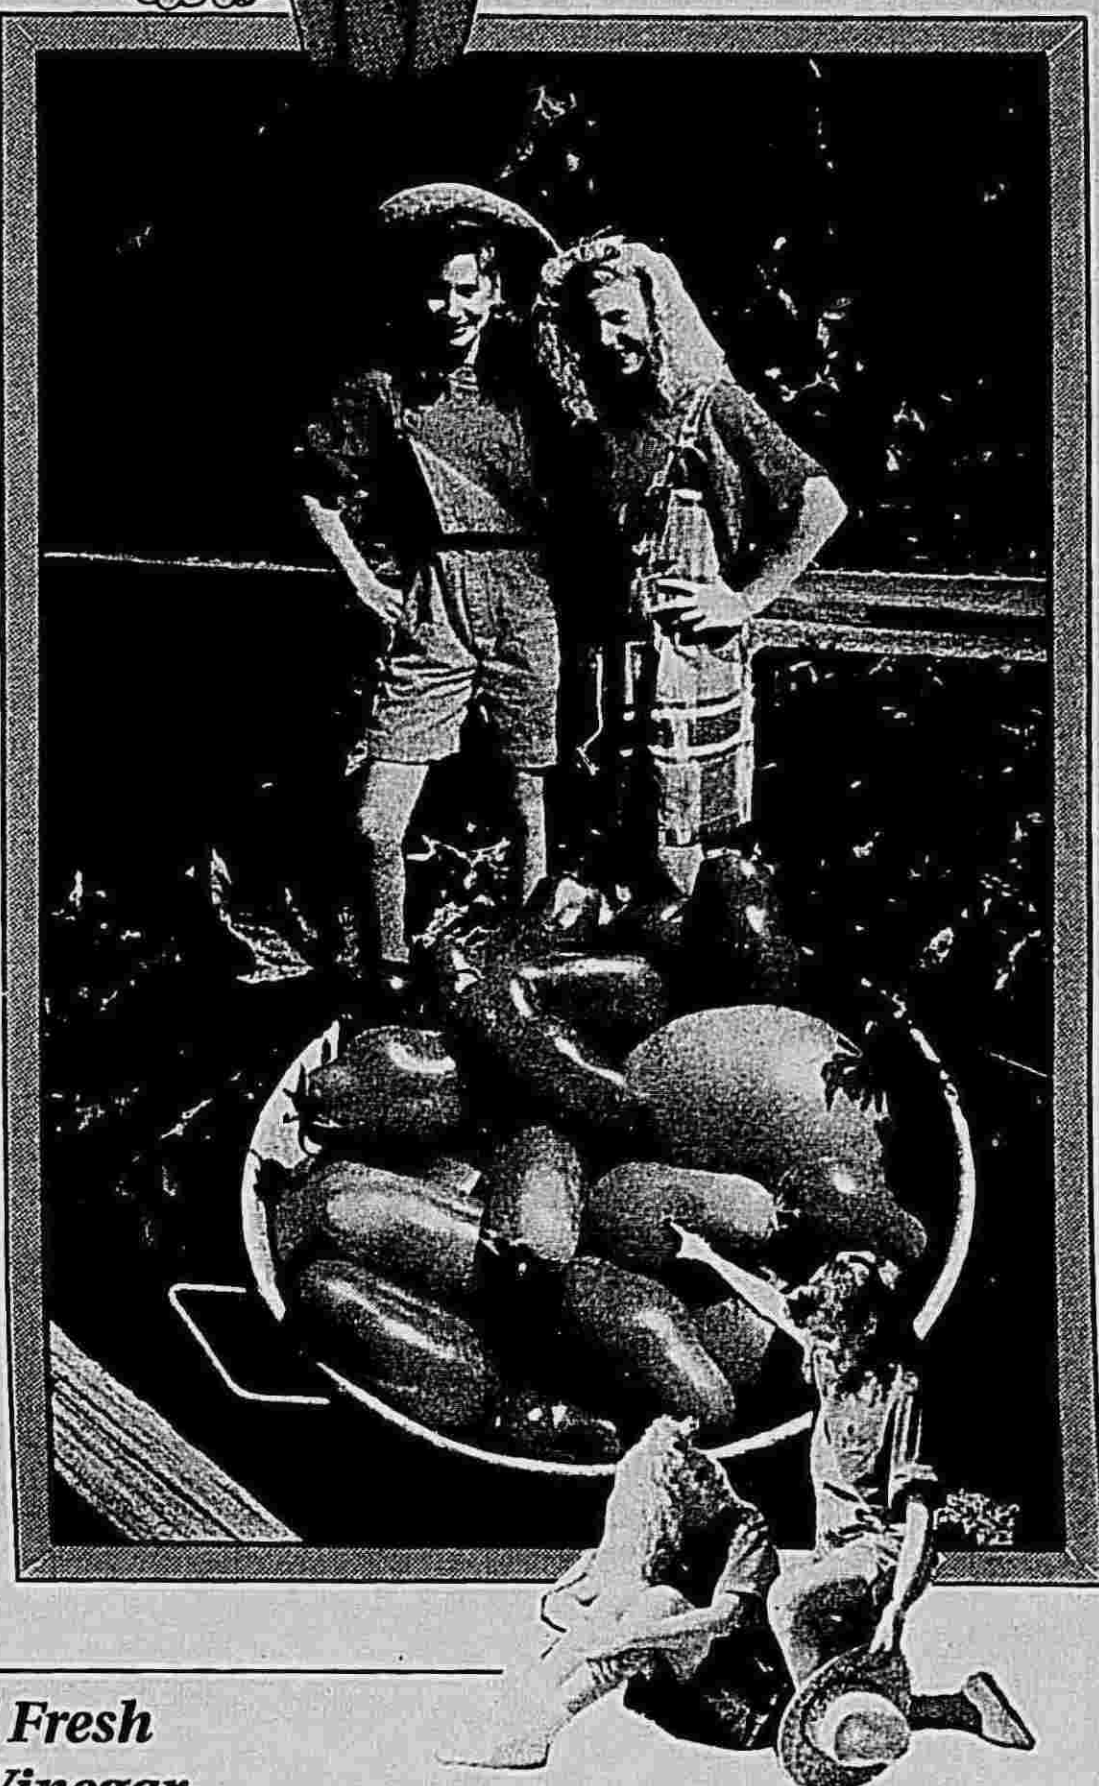

Peanut Dipping Sauce:

2 garlic cloves 1/4 tsp. crushed hot red pepper,
2 shallots or hot pepper sauce
2 T. lemon juice 3/4 c. peanut butter
2 T. brown sugar 3/4 c. cream of coconut milk
1/2 tsp. ground coriander

In a medium bowl, combine soy sauce, lemon juice, oil and sugar. Add chicken strips. Let them marinate at room temperature, tossing occasionally for 30 minutes.

Combine garlic, shallots, lime juice, brown sugar, coriander and hot pepper in a food processor. Process until garlic and shallots are finely chopped. Add peanut butter and coconut milk. Keep processing till smooth.

Thread chicken on 10-inch wooden picks or skewers that have been soaked in water for a half an hour. (By soaking the wooden skewers in water, there is less chance of their burning on the grill.) Grill over direct medium-high heat for 10 minutes, until tender and opaque. Baste with peanut butter sauce. Serve remaining sauce for dipping. Serves 8

Rhubarb Cake

All that beautiful rhubarb growing, and what to do with it? This is my mother's recipe with some minor changes...I use a cake mix.

Mix together:

1 cake mix (pudding-in-the-cake type)
Follow directions on package adding amounts of water, oil and egg whites.
Spread batter in bottom of greased 9x13" pan

Mix together:

7 c. diced fresh rhubarb
1 pkg. (3 oz.) strawberry jello
1/2 c. sugar

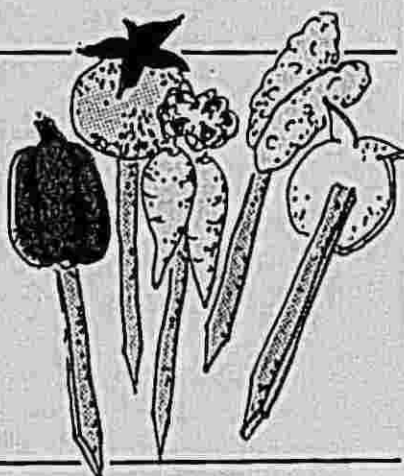

Spread on top of batter. Sprinkle following mixture on top of rhubarb:

1/2 c. sugar
1/4 c. flour
3 T. butter

Combine until mixture forms crumbs. Bake at 350 degrees for 45-50 minutes.

Garden Markers

Garden markers are a novel idea for use next spring. Cut flower and vegetable shapes from styrofoam from meat and produce trays. Color with water-proof felt tip markers and glue to garden stakes. These will be used to mark garden rows next planting season.

Sweet Refrigerator Pickle Chips

So easy to make with all those cucumbers that have been growing in your garden. Make and store in the fridge, I'll be surprised if many are left.

7 c. sliced cucumbers
1 large onion, sliced
1/2 c. salt

Place sliced cucumbers in large bowl, add sliced onions and cover with salt. Mix to coat. Cover with ice chips and let stand for 2 hours.

Boil:

3 c. sugar
1 3/4 c. vinegar
1 1/2 T. celery seed

Bring to a rolling boil in a small saucepan. Cool. Drain sliced cucumbers and rinse slightly. Put in clean covered jar and pour syrup over the cucumbers and onions. Store in refrigerator.

Mixed Fresh Herb Vinegar

I make this every year and love it. Now is the time to preserve some of your garden herbs. Herb vinegar corked in clean, clear wine bottles make attractive and welcome gifts for fellow cooks at Christmas-time.

1/2 c. chopped fresh rosemary
1/2 c. chopped fresh thyme
4 shallots, thinly sliced
1 sprig fresh parsley, chopped
12 peppercorns

3 3/4 c. white vinegar (5% acidity)

Sprigs of fresh rosemary and thyme

Place first 5 ingredients in a wide-mouth glass jar. Place vinegar in a medium saucepan; bring to a boil. Pour vinegar over herbs in jar; cover with a lid and screw band tight. Let stand at room temperature for 5 days.

Strain vinegar into clean, sterile wine bottles, discarding herb residue; add additional sprigs of rosemary and thyme to make it pretty. Seal with new cork or other airtight lid. Corked tops may be dipped into melted paraffin for a sealed look.

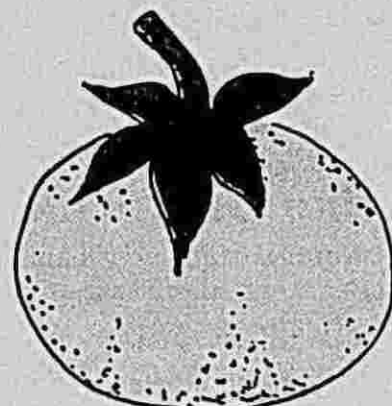

Gazpacho

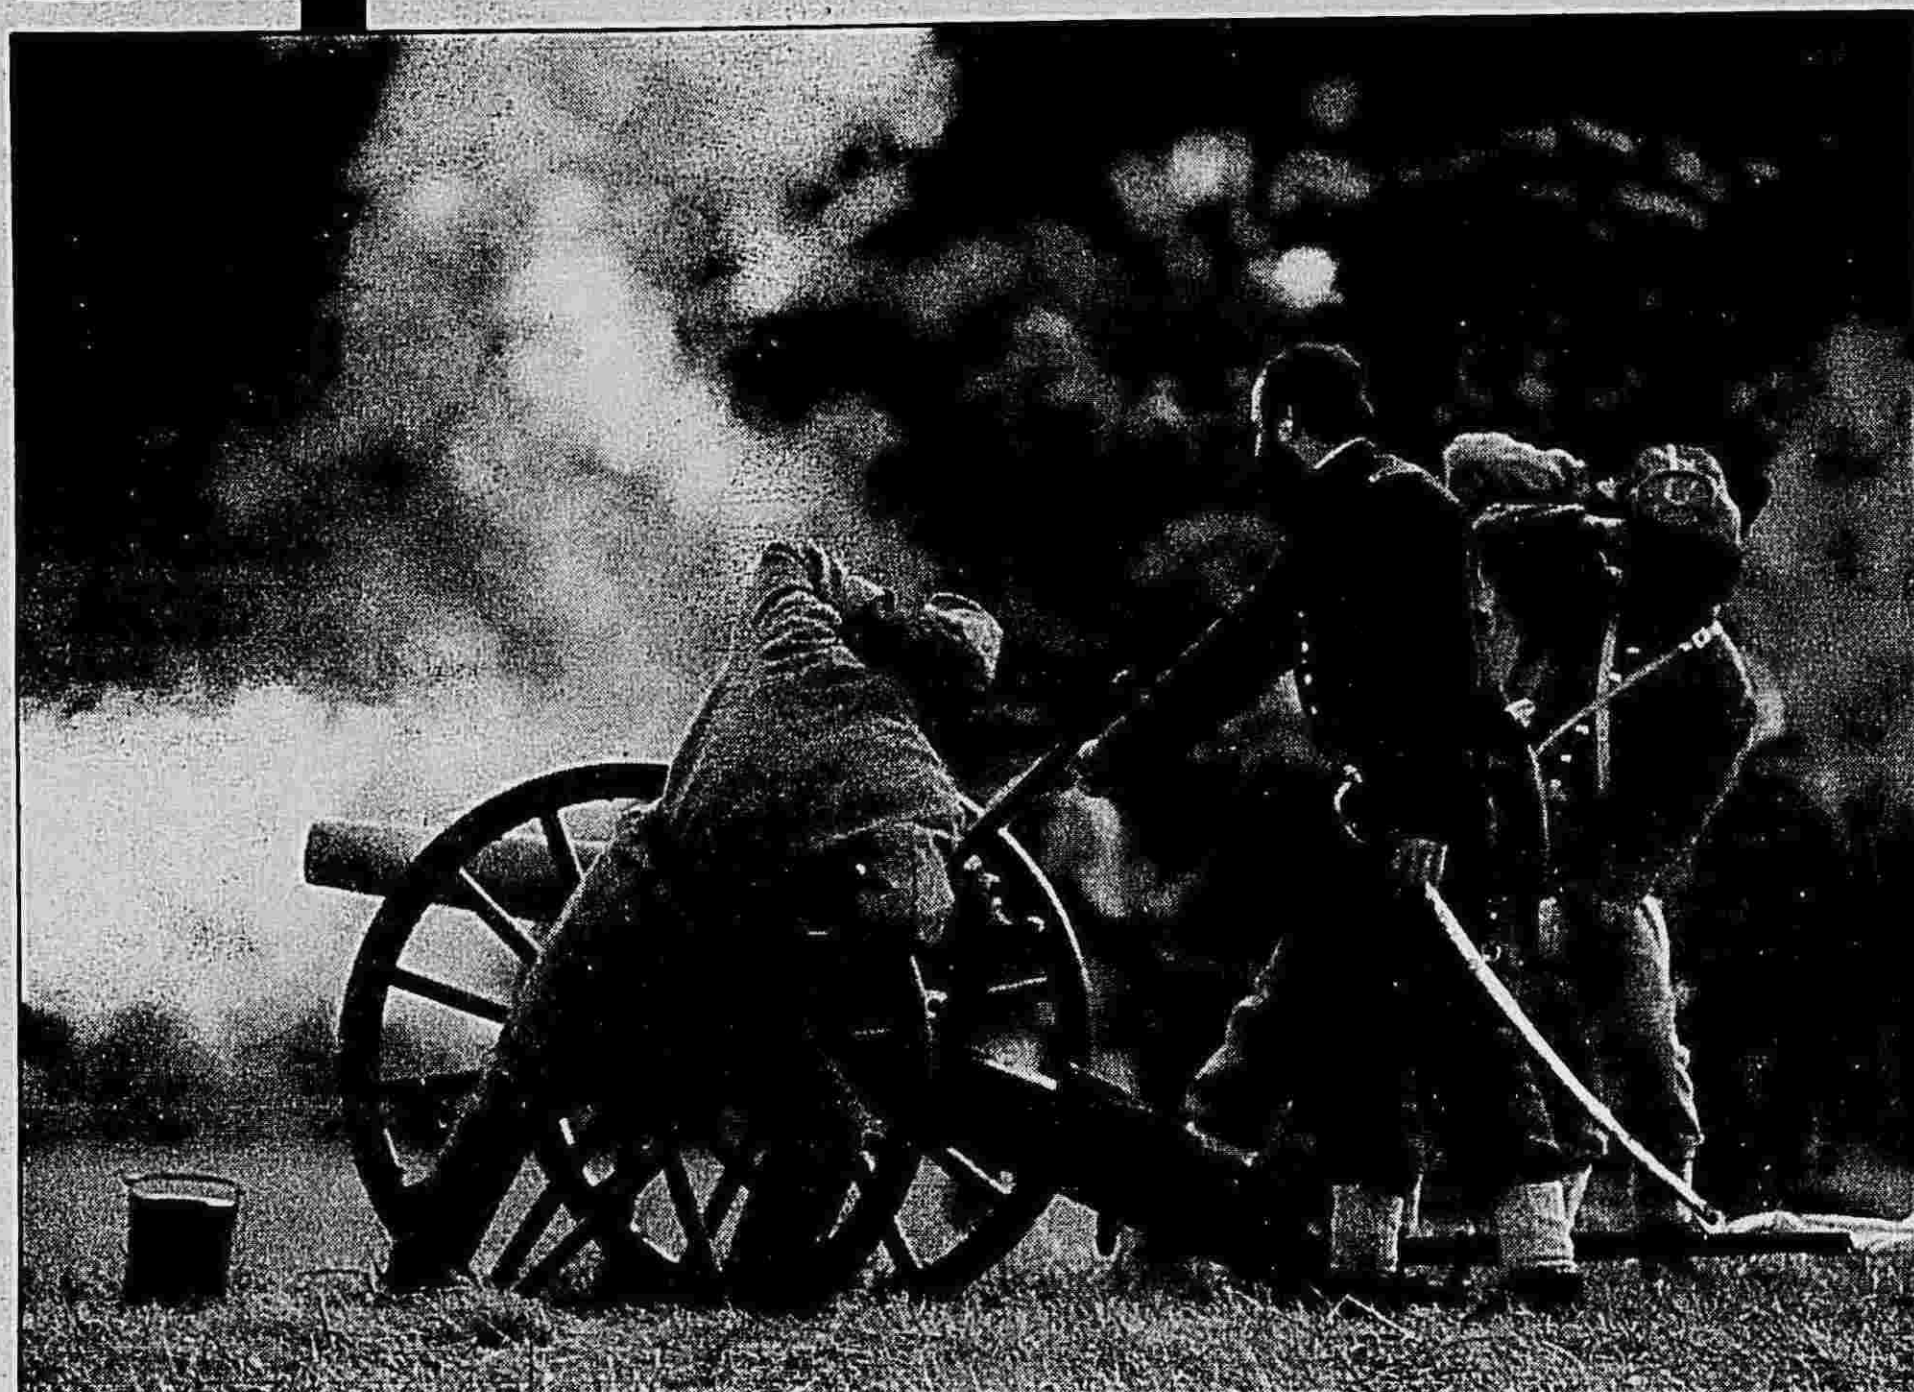

This should be a summer-time favorite...Salad in a soup-bowl! Tomatoes are the main ingredient, but without the bite of garlic and onion, gazpacho would not be as zesty and refreshing. Serve in chilled bowls.

4 large ripe tomatoes
2 1/2 cucumbers
1 large green pepper
10-12 scallions
2-3 cloves garlic
Salt

1/4 c. red wine vinegar
1/3 c. olive oil
3 c. tomato juice (or V8)

Peel, seed and chop or dice the tomatoes and 2 of the cucumbers. Wash and trim pepper and scallions and dice. Mash garlic with 1 tsp. salt. Beat in vinegar and oil. Combine this dressing with the chopped vegetables and stir in the tomato juice. Add broth or water to desired consistency. Season with hot pepper sauce, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Chill. Slice 1/2 cucumber paper thin. Serve gazpacho in chilled bowls with cucumber slices and croutons. Serves 4-6

Civil War revisited

Reenactment slated for Sept. 12-13

Nearly 130 years ago, guns fired and cannons shot at the Battle of Bull Run. It was the beginning of the Civil War. Some believe the war began to save the union, some believe it began to save, or eliminate, slaves.

Whatever the reason, and there were many theories, America has come a long way since brothers fought against brothers. But for one weekend, Sept. 12 and Sept. 13, the public can call the museum to learn how to become a reenactor to participate this year by calling the Lake County Museum or watch a reenactment of the Civil War at the Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda.

Kris Breyer, inventor and organizer of the event, attempted to schedule the event for the 125th anniversary of the war, but Lake County Forest Preserve Commissioners were doubtful and the proposal did not pass.

"It took seven years to get the Lake County Forest Preserve Board to try it," Breyer said. "It was something that had never been done and it involved a lot of offices that had never worked together before."

Breyer has been a Civil War reenactor since the 1970s. Ten years ago she moved in next to the forest preserve and "it screamed out first-person historical events," she said.

It took three years of bringing horses and people to different events dressed in old-fashion clothing to convince the commissioners that this was an event people would be interested in. Horse-drawn carriages and formally dressed women would participate in events such as the winter walk program, holiday Sunday near Christmastime, old-fashion Sunday in September and pioneer days.

"The county began realizing that people enjoyed this and that it should be adopted into the program," Breyer said.

In 1989, the departments worked together to arrange the Civil War reenactment for its first year presentation.

"The first year the commissioners were flabbergasted," Breyer said. "Almost 3,000 people showed up to watch the event and about 100 reenactors attended. Then they asked if we would do it again the following year."

That first year, Civil War Days won a $700 grant from the Illinois Fine Arts Council, which never before had given a grant for a Civil War reenactment.

Last year, despite the "horrendous

weather," about 3,000 people attended and 300 reenactors participated in the event. The event received the 1991 Innovative Program Award from the Illinois Parks and Recreation Association.

"We're doing something right," Breyer said. This year, the event will try for graphics and promotional awards, according to Breyer.

The Lakewood Forest Preserve receives funding for the event from Harris Bank, the local Moose Lodge, Island Foods, Dunkin Donuts, the News-Sun, and other businesses throughout Lake County.

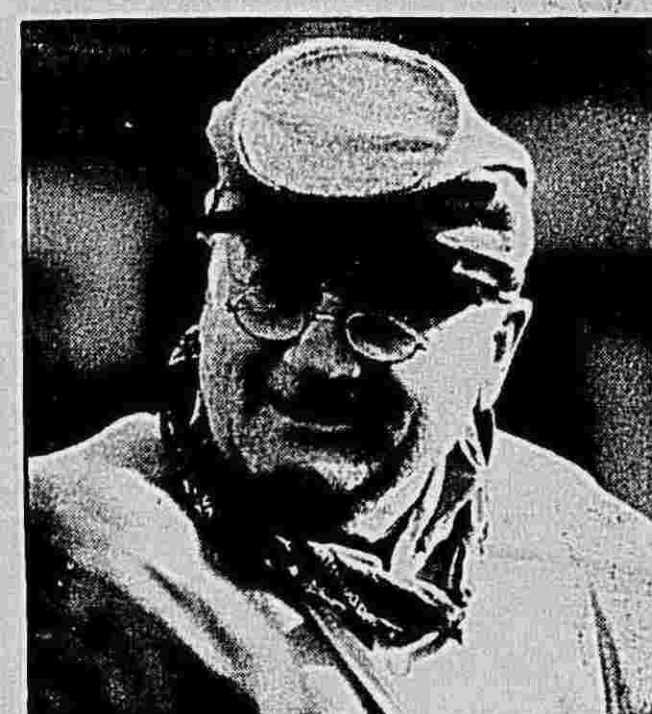

But Civil Wars Days is not an event that is centered on the Lake County area. The event is advertised in national reenactor magazines and many people come from around the nation to participate. Vendors who come to sell various "old-fashioned" goods come from as far away as Pennsylvania and Colorado to participate.

Performance artists from Michigan have called this year and asked to participate in the reenactment and a music group from Nashville, Tenn. who participated in previous years has asked to return, according to Breyer.

There are various levels of reenacting, Breyer said. People who are interested in a specific individual may present that individual to the public or a specific military unit, calvary unit, even a medical impression. Many of the unit presentations represent actual units raised in northern Illinois, according to Breyer.

"Research has been done to find out who was from this area, what they did, what unit they participated in and present that individual to the public in a reenactment," Breyer said.

Part of the reason Breyer believed the Civil War reenactment would be a good thing for Lake County is because of the scenery and the museum.

"The museum is there and if you want

— Kris Breyer

people to learn about the history of Lake County, we needed to get events out there that people would attend," Breyer said. "It's the perfect place to hold interpretive, first-person historical events."

"We have commissioners who had never seen the Lakewood Forest Preserve, and they were amazed by the beauty," she added.

Breyer said that Civil War Days has been a big factor in letting people know about the museum and teaching them about the history of Lake County.

"This event has really drawn people to get involved with the museum," Breyer said. "We have had students say 'wow! this is better than our history books.' Students who have graduated from Wauconda High School have participated and said they've learned more from participating than they did in high school."

Aside from the reenactments, Civil War Days also offers a fashion show, various drills, competitions, tea and a military ball over the course of the two-day event. For more information or a schedule of events call 526-7878.

So long summer

With the long days of summer coming to an end, come an abundant supply of fresh vegetables picked off ripe vines and bushes and plucked from the patch.

Here are some suggestions for you to use to capture the freshness and flavor of these summer treasures.

Pesto Sauce

If you've grown fresh basil in your herb garden this year, you're truly fortunate. The weather has been kind, and this crop is plentiful. Pesto sauce is made from basil leaves, parsley, garlic and Parmesan cheese. Its uses are many, but teamed with hot, cooked pasta is still my favorite. Do yourself a favor and try my recipe.

4-6 garlic cloves, chopped 1/4 c. chopped pine nuts, optional
16 large fresh basil leaves 1/2 c. salt
3 parsley sprigs 1/2 c. olive oil
6 T. Parmesan cheese

In electric blender, blend all ingredients except oil to make a smooth paste. Slowly, blend in oil and stir until mixed. Serve over hot pasta. Makes 3/4-1 cup

Chicken Satays with Peanut Dipping Sauce

These tasty kebabs make a great appetizer or main course for a barbecue. The peanut dipping sauce is a must to fully enjoy this ethnic treat.

Satays:

1/4 c. soy sauce 1 T. sugar
1/4 c. lemon juice 2 lbs. skinless, boneless chicken breasts,
3 T. oil cut into thin strips

Peanut Dipping Sauce:

2 garlic cloves 1/4 tsp. crushed hot red pepper,
2 shallots or hot pepper sauce
2 T. lemon juice 3/4 c. peanut butter
2 T. brown sugar 3/4 c. cream of coconut milk
1/2 tsp. ground coriander

In a medium bowl, combine soy sauce, lemon juice, oil and sugar. Add chicken strips. Let them marinate at room temperature, tossing occasionally for 30 minutes.

Combine garlic, shallots, lime juice, brown sugar, coriander and hot pepper in a food processor. Process until garlic and shallots are finely chopped. Add peanut butter and coconut milk. Keep processing till smooth.

Grill over direct medium-high heat for 10 minutes, until tender and opaque. Baste with peanut butter sauce. Serve remaining sauce for dipping.

Bears season means Morris back on TV

Veteran sportscaster Johnny Morris, 57, has had a distinguished career in Chicago television for 28 years. Now "semi-retired" from the daily sports scene, you will see plenty of Johnny Morris all throughout the Bears football season on WBBM-TV where he will be hosting "The Mike Ditka Show," "Bears Extra" on Sunday nights, and the live "Locker Room" show after each Bears game. Morris said he has enjoyed his first three months of "semi-retirement." "I just got to the point in my life where I preferred not to work on a daily show. I wanted to enjoy time with my family and the fruits of my labors over the last 28 years."

Prior to joining WBBM-TV, Johnny enjoyed a successful 10-year career with the Chicago Bears. He played from 1958 to 1967 and is the Chicago Bears' all-time pass receiver with more than 5,000 yards to his credit. His best season was in 1964 when he had 93 receptions for 1,200 yards.

Johnny has lived in Lake County for more than 20 years and can't imagine living anywhere else.

CURRENTLY WORKING ON: The Bears season for Channel 2. I'll be doing the live "Locker Room" show after the Bears games, "The Mike Ditka Show" and "Sports Extra" on Sunday nights on Channel 2.

BEST PART OF LIVING IN LAKE COUNTY: I've lived out here for 20 years and I love that it is open and quiet. The community is really nice and comfortable.

FAVORITE LAKE COUNTY RESTAURANT: The Barn in Barrington.

FAVORITE MUSIC: like a lot of different types of music, but I probably like reggae the best.

WHAT DO YOU DO FOR FUN: Play bridge and now that I'm semi-retired I'm learning to play golf.

HOBBIES: Arlington Park. I love every aspect of it. I love the strength and endurance of the jockeys, the beauty of the horses and I love charting the races and trying to get a winner.

THE DUMBEST THING YOU'VE EVER DONE: While interviewing former Dallas Cowboy quarterback Craig Morton for a past Superbowl, I kept calling him over and over Don Meredith and he never corrected me. (Craig was Don's back-up). That was one of the most embarrassing moments in my television career.

PEOPLE DESCRIBE ME AS: Competitive. I like to win at what I do. While I was working full-time I was very driven but since I've semi-retired I've mellowed.

BEST ADVICE YOU'VE EVER RECEIVED: It was from an old coach of mine George Allen who told me no matter what, no one is indispensable. I tried to remember that in football and in television. It keeps you from getting a big ego.

WHAT MOTIVATES YOU: To win, to do well. I'm 5-foot-10 and 180 pounds and for a football player that was quite small so I had to strive to be one of the best. I had the speed but not the size so I became very driven.

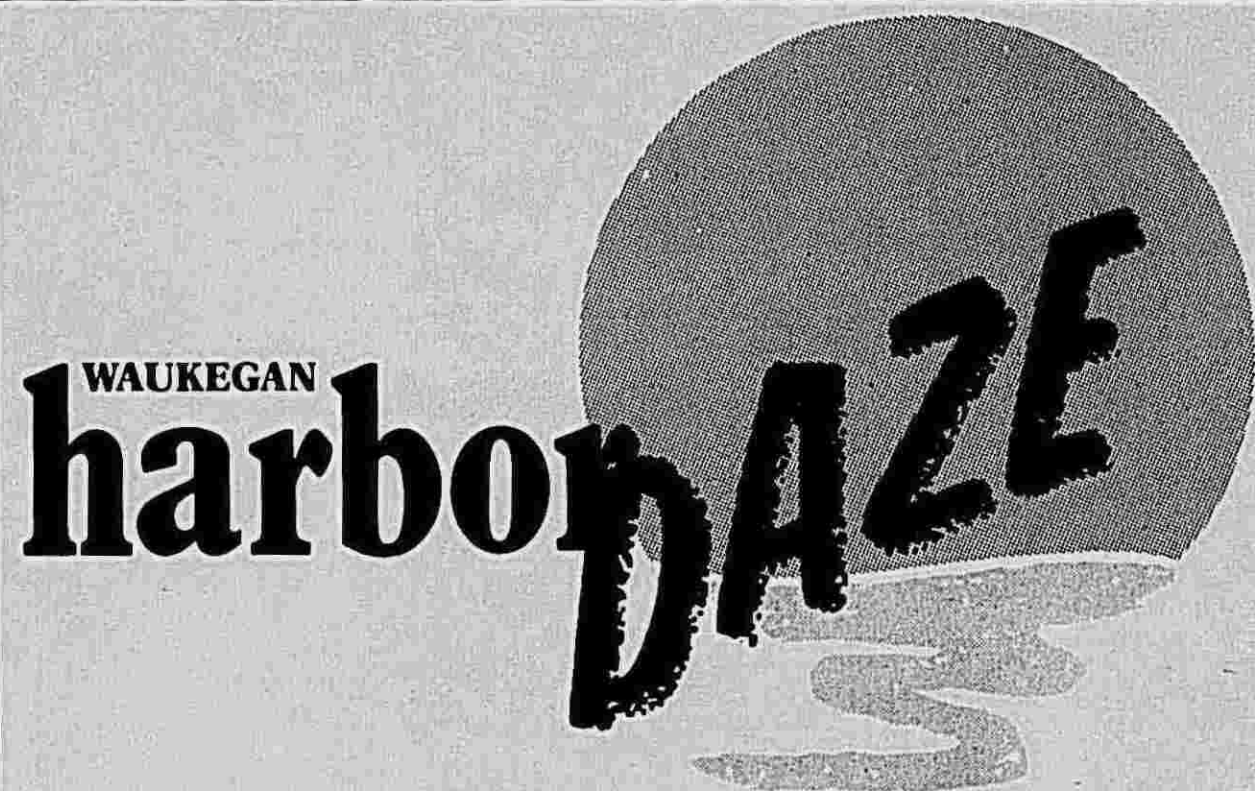

YOUR OPINION ON THE PROFESSIONAL FOOTBALL PLAYERS OF TODAY: When I was playing I didn't get much money at all. It was pure motivation. You didn't get multi-year, million dollar contracts. It is a whole different ball game but everything changes with each generation, and for the most part, it has changed for the better.

FAVORITE ENTERTAINER: Robin Williams. He's brilliant and the funniest man alive.

FAVORITE TELEVISION PROGRAMS: Any sports, the (old) Honeymooners, Colombo.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN JOHNNY MORRIS TODAY AND 10 YEARS AGO: I'm not as driven today because I'm not working as much. I'm living a much more passive life. Ten years ago I was striving, saving and working to get ready to retire. The best years of the rest of my life are the next 10 years.

WHAT'S IN YOUR FUTURE: More traveling, going to Arlington Park and our lake home in Wisconsin.

Airlines Anti-trust Claims Settlement Procedures

By Jim Warnken, President
North Star Travel, Inc.

You may have heard about a proposed settlement to a class action suit brought against several major airlines for alleged price fixing. Here are some answers to the many questions I have been asked.

First of all, this is only a proposed settlement. The court will not rule on it until October 19, 1992. Even if it is accepted, which is questionable at this time, there is no advantage to filing a claim before October 19. In fact, claimants have until February 15, 1993 to file, and will have no advantage to filing earlier. Additionally, if you file now and the courts reject the plan, you may have to file again.

If the plan is accepted, anyone who purchased a ticket for domestic air travel between January 1, 1988 and June 30, 1992 would be eligible to share in about $400 million in coupons for discounts off future travel.

Claims are filed under one of three classes with a different claim form for each.

A short form may be filed by anyone substantiating one qualifying trip and is considered a $1,000 claim. An intermediate form is used by those claiming 5 round trips and is valued at $2,500. There is also a long form for those wishing to claim more than $2,500.

Intermediate filers must total their number of ticket purchases by airline. Long form filers must total dollar purchases broken down by six month sub-totals.

All claimants must be prepared to back-up their claims with proof of purchases such as credit card statements, canceled checks, frequent flyer statements or expense account records. Some airlines will research this information for you, but will likely charge a fee.

If the proposal is accepted, the value of the coupons issued to each claimant is likely to be minimal, since the $400 million in coupons must be divided among an enormous number of claimants. Coupons will not be useable for more than 10% of the value of new ticket purchases.

Additionally, the airlines have proposed that coupons not be redeemable on tickets purchased through your travel agent.

Roommates join babysitters as new violence vendors

If filmdom has its way we will all soon be boarding our houses up and allowing admittance to only immediate family and qualifying that. Who can you trust, by golly! Nanny's and babysitters, once the most noble of professions, are going off the deep end — husbands are not to be trusted, teachers are rats and now we have to beware of our roommates.

"Single White Female," is an "All About Eve" with fright effects.

We have the glamorous Bridget Fonda, who turns in her best performance to date, being virtually gobbled up mentally and physically by her shy new roommate, played coldly by Jennifer Jason Leigh.

The change in the two girls' personalities is the crux of the first part of the movie with a lot of bloody mayhem taking over in the second part.

The suspense that builds masterfully is interrupted by an overdose of blood at the climax.

Director Barbet Schroeder does an overall good job but the blood-letting gets way out of hand.

The two men that add to this credible cast are Steven Weber who plays Fonda's roving boyfriend and a dirty minded boss played by Stephen Tobolowski.

We'll give "Single White Female" three out of five stars, on sheer fright rights while subtracting two points for the needless blood and guts towards the finale. The violence and sex keeps this one in the adult vault with an "R" rating. —by GLORIA DAVIS

Theis finds inventors need wide skills variety

Peter Theis

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

When youngsters begin to make career choices, firemen, policeman or maybe doctor are the traditional choices.

Inventor-manufacturer-lawyer as one position may not be frequently mentioned, but a Gurnee inventor has been managing those duties for the last three decades.

Peter Theis is devoting time to protect the use and users of his innovations by licensing his technologies. These technologies have resulted in 16 patents and 10 more are in application stages.

"I got started in the patenting business because I was in the business. I saw a need, once I developed that need, was a need to start marketing the need. Nobody understands a new idea. When it becomes commonplace, it becomes obvious," Theis, founder and president of Theis Research, Inc., said.

Theis's technologies have included the processes which have spurred the research and development for automated voice processing including some related to voice mail, automated attendant, transaction processing, audiotex, speed recognition and automatic call distribution.

Theis invented the equipment to automatically process calls two decades ago. Also, Theis technologies have helped develop early telephone answering machine use of question and answer rather than typical answering early customer-premises multiple broadcasting from a central office and early use of portable computers to measure telephone traffic patterns.

Companies using Theis technology include Hersey's through Conversational Technologies Corp.

Theis said rarely do inventors sit down at 9 a.m. at a desk and have a list of inventions. "When you are least thinking about solving a problem, that is when the solution will come," he said.

"There is no school you go to to show how you develop your idea. You've got to become almost a patent lawyer to get a patent, you've got to be a financier to have someone finance you, you've got to be a manufacturer-salesman to develop it. Then you have to be a litigator to protect that patent.

"In today's world, the person who invents a new concept has to be a jack of all trades," he said.

This can be doubly tough for the inventor with another job.

Depending on the technology, the turnaround is not overnight.

"If it is a truly pioneering application for a patent, many times patent would have expired before it comes into common usage. There is a good 20 years between concept of a coffee cup and the concept appears on shelves. But if it is incremental technology — you have a smaller cassette tape you could see it in a couple of years, but the technology may be obsolete in a couple of years so it may have a short life span. It can range the whole gamut," Theis said.

For example, the voice mail patents were issued in 1972, it started becoming common placed in the 1980s. "It is just now reaching its stride," Theis said.

Theis has gone up against the status quo in American economy which puts large corporations and the United States government in dominating patent positions. His firm is in a court battle with Ameritech over patent infringement.

In April, Ameritech brought suit through a supplier in California to declare the patents invalid.

"We used to be very open with our new ideas. We relied on the fact that patents would protect us. We now recognize there are some major corporations that do not respect patent rights. The small guy has a rough go of it in a big money game.

"If major corporations do not respect the intellectual property rights of others, and if there is not a funding source for the small business and independent inventor, it is a very tough road to hoe," Theis said.

The U.S. government, through the bidding process, is the biggest infringer, Theis said. "They invite people to infringe. If we bring a new idea to the U.S. government, they will try it, say 'this is great', and then the lowest competitor comes in. You can't sue the government and get your money back. You have to sue the person who supplied the equipment. You've done all the research and development, all the promotion for the government, they bring someone else in and then you are expected to bring suit for $1 million against the guy they brought the big business to. You can't win. The U.S. government for a small businessman or independent inventor is a lose-lose situation," Theis said.

An international firm will buy the technology, and the American companies must face then an international group.

Four local credit unions on Illinois' Top 100 list

Four area credit union are listed on Illinois' Top 100 Credit Union List for 1991. They are: Great Lakes CU, Great Lakes, with $203.5 million in assets; Consumers Co-operative CU, Waukegan, with $100.9 million; Abbott Laboratories ECU, Gurnee, $48.8 million; and Warren Newport CU, Gurnee, $35.4 million.

Great Lakes CU, which serves 78,301 members, is also in Illinois' Top 10 list, ranking fourth in the state in terms of both asset and membership size. Making the highest one year jump in terms of asset size throughout the entire state was Abbott Laboratories ECU, which moved from 55th place at year end 1990 with $26.5 million in assets to its current 32nd ranking today—an increase in assets of 84 percent.

"Despite the recession, credit unions in Illinois and nationwide are doing well," says Dan Plauda, president/chief operating officer, of the Illinois Credit Union System. "Loan delinquencies are down, net income is running steady and reserves are up slightly." The ICU System is the primary trade association for Illinois credit unions.

Low loan delinquency is good news for credit unions and is another sign of financial strength. According to the Economic Research division of the Credit Union National Assn., the national delinquency rate for credit unions in 1991 was 1.58 percent. Credit unions in Illinois fared better than the national average with only 1.51 percent of their total loan portfolio over 30 days delinquent.

Illinois ended the year with 851 credit unions. While the number of credit unions decreased six percent in 1991, due mainly to voluntary mergers, credit union membership continued to grow. Today Illinois has 2.32 million members, compared to 62.4 million members nationwide from 13,977 credit unions.

Heading the list of Illinois' Top 10 Credit Unions in 1991 was United Air Lines ECU, headquartered in Arlington Heights, with over $2 billion in assets. United Air Lines ECU is also one of the top three credit unions in the nation. In the number two spot is Construction Equipment FCU, Peoria, with over $782 million in assets, which placed them in the top 100 list nationwide.

Number three was Baxter CU, Deerfield, with $223 million in assets, followed by Great Lakes CU at the Great Lakes Navy Training Center, North Chicago, with $203 million.

Several reasons given to evaluate property

by ALAN NADOLNA

The recent passage of legislation aimed at transfers of property has created a need for valuations of several kinds.

Valuations must be defensible in court, so it is important that they are provided by an uninvolved third party. The valuator should be a professional, and able to provide support for the information contained in the formal report.

Many property owners, particularly commercial property, are familiar with the high costs of appraisals - a form of valuation. Happily, valuations sufficient for transfers of property are not nearly as expensive as one would expect. The development of small independent valuation firms has enabled property owners to obtain quality valuations at relatively nominal cost.

The Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1990 and final regulations to Chapter 14 have focused attention on business buy-sell agreements. Despite certain "safe harbors" available under the new law, it is generally agreed that all agreements between family members require review and that a current valuation of business is critical.

A valuation will establish a fair and objective price acceptable to the owners of the business. It will also provide the best defense to IRS challenges of the value placed on the business.

Businesses often attempt to determine the value of a key employee and the impact to the firm of the loss of the key employee. There is a real potential loss of earnings, goodwill, competitive advantage and the overall value of the firm. The impact of the loss of key individual has been acknowledged by the IRS, and a valuations of this issue can have important bearing on a business' ultimate tax liability.

This Way to Wealth

Unfortunately, divorces are still common in our society. Independent valuations are routinely required to determine the fairest distribution of marital assets.

Another form of divorce is the breakup of business partnerships or divestiture of parts of firms. Again valuations are required to determine the purchase price, loan value or other financial parameter.

Everyone considering the purchase of a business is well advised to utilize an independent valuation. This can also be of value in obtaining financing for business operations or purchase.

Employee stock ownership plans are retirement plans that are funded with employer stock. This plan enables employees to obtain an ownership interest in the company. The contributions to this type of plan are determined by an independent valuation of the value of shares.

going to have to hire more police officers. I don't think it's right. Let those people stay in McHenry County where they belong; they don't belong in Lake County. We have enough property here to take care of. I think it's a utter mass of confusion for this to be going on, and I wish those trustees up there would start thinking about those of us who are in Fox Lake and are paying our taxes.

Park district property tax

Hello; this is Ed Schroeder. I am responding to the anonymous letter which states that the time has passed me by, and I should talk about facts. It was an incoherent phone call, and I suspect it was from a park board commission member because a plural "we" was used. As for the facts, the caller said: "We don't levy a tax on property owners." Unbelievable. The caller is in another world. My property tax bill shows an amount of $152.99 for the Grayslake Community Park District. Also, the township assessor reports that the Grayslake Community Park District will receive a total tax of $401,803.53 this year from the taxpayers. That is a tax on the property owners. I am not afraid to take a public stand, and I will get off the back of the park district when they start to manage money more efficiently. Thanks.

Rude school board member

Hello, I'm calling in response to the article concerning the Round Lake School District. As a young adult, and a future educator of this country, I have attended many school board meetings and I am very disgusted with one board member in general. Mr. Hubka is a rude and belligerent man. No matter what the teachers say, he also has to come back with some rude and belligerent comment. He is the same way with the public. During one board meeting, a lady was talking and he really interrupted her to tell her the time was up. After that, many people stood up and told him she could have their floor time. He only shut up when Dr. Sherman told him to be quiet. Mr. Hubka has been heard telling other people that teachers are the cause of the school district's problems. I'm sorry to say that the whole board, including Mr. Hubka, is the cause of our school district's financial problems. If Mr. Hubka were not on the board, I strongly believe that the teachers' union and the board would have reached an agreement a long time ago. Just remember, Mr. Hubka, you were mistakenly elected into office by the voters.

New school needed; vote yes

Hi, I'm a student at Antioch High School, and I'm a junior this year. I would like to tell you how much we need a new school. We've been trying to pass a referendum, but it's not working. I realize that I don't have to pay the taxes that you do, but I hope that you realize that I'm not getting the education that you did. Isn't high school supposed to be the time to remember? Freshman year and sophomore year have not been so great. Students are not getting the one-on-one education needed. One way or another we need money to buy a new school. I don't think we should pay $40 for each sport, pay $4 to $5 for lunch each day, pay $50 to park in the parking lot, not have needed sports equipment and, most of all, not have room to walk in the halls and room in the commons and cafeteria to eat. People are standing in the walkways eating. I wish I could get the one-on-one attention from teachers that I need, but when teachers have 30 or more students in each class, it's hard. I wish that each one of you that voted "no" last November would come to our school during school hours to see how overcrowded it is. Please think about your high school days and how great they were; don't ruin the rest of mine by voting "no." Thank you for your time.

Use common sense

Hello, I'm calling from Antioch in regards to the police confiscating the children's bicycles. The reason behind it is the parents are to busy or too lazy to educate their children on how to ride a bicycle and where to ride a bicycle. Maybe the parents would be more content if the children, in the process of riding through crowded streets, hurt somebody and were sued and lose everything they have. Instead of crying, spend a little more time with your child--and use a little common sense. Also, we love to play Bingo. I went to the Moose the other day and was appalled at the dirtiness and darkness of the place. It looks like something out of a skid row. Being a Moose member for many years, this is the most disappointing one I have ever been to. Also, the men and women there just sit and smoke like they are in a saloon. I'd advise my Moose brothers and members to be a little more conscious of people who have health problems and not use the place as a smokehouse. If they have something that they want smoked, take it to a butcher shop. Thank you.

Good service is the answer

My call is in regard to the Postal Service Continued in the Aug. 28 issue--interesting comments by apparently a postal worker. He says that the patrons do not pay for the buildings. Who buys the stamps, but the patrons? This person is a typical postal worker--people who are not aware that the job IS one of customer service and that customers DO have a right to demand service that they pay for. Lost mail bags, misrouted mail--these are common practices, particularly at our wonderful Mundelein post office, which is probably one of the worst in the country for handling mail efficiently. People do go into Sears and demand service; if they don't get it, they walk across the street to Wal-mart. That's the way America is; it's a capitalistic society. Just because the post office has a monopoly doesn't mean that they don't have to give good service. I demand good service because that's what I pay for when I buy a stamp. So why waste my time with your stupid doubletalk about how you don't have to give me service, about how my stamps don't pay for: the building you stand in; the heat that keeps you warm on the job; your wonderful, comfortable pension which is one of the world's best; and your great medical services that keeps your family healthy. The stamp that I buy is your livelihood, and I demand and expect good service. And, I should get it--or you should get fired.

Where's the beach?

I think somebody should straighten out these real estate offices in the Round Lake area. When you buy a house in Round Lake, they tell you how beautiful Round Lake is, the beach and all this kind of stuff. When you go to find the beach, there's no beach, no boat ramp, no nothing. Round Lake Beach has a beach and a boat ramp, but they won't allow outsiders to use it. Round Lake Park has a beach and a boat ramp, but you have to

Rams have 'uplifting' off-season

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The clanking sound heard at Grayslake Community High School this summer was not something breaking down needed to be fixed.

Quite the contrary. Instead, it was, for football coaches, the sweet sound of football players lifting weights. Coach Bill Johnson and his staff could almost count the inches and pounds being added to the Rams with every clank.

"I tell the kids, if you don't lift weights or are not in football camp, then you start the season at the bottom of the depth chart. That does not mean you can't work your way up to the top. But we get a lot of participation," Johnson said.

Those doing the bench presses and squats were some familiar faces to Grayslake faithful. The good news from last year's 2-7 team is 14 returning letterwinners are back.

"It takes longer with 43 kids out to get the repetitions, but this is the first time in 25 years Grayslake has had this many lettermen back," Johnson said.

Senior Brian Andrews, at 6-foot-1, 175 pounds and junior Jason Link, are the two top candidates to be starting quarterback. "Brian throws the ball better but Jason can run the ball. Jason has improved fundamentally but he still needs time to pick up the passing attack. Early in the year, we may very well alternate," Johnson said.

That especially could be the case for the opener at home against Marengo Sept. 4.

"We are three to four deep on the depth chart at every position," Johnson said of running backs.

Zach Spencer, a 5-10, 155 pounder returns, as does Greg Kane. Kane, a 5-9 170 pounder, suffered a broken leg last year but is recovering.

Bill Guenther might well receive the team's heart award. He is battling Juvenile Arthritis, akin to Lou Gehrig's disease. He played baseball for the Mundelein Legion team this summer and is back for another year as running back — safety with the Rams.

"He had some problem with eye and hand coordination during baseball season, but the problems people said he would experience have not happened," Johnson said.

Ben Rockwell, out for the first time for football and Jay Horvath give the Rams something which fans may not be used to — speed from the wide receiver position. Horvath runs a 4.8 40-yard dash while Rockwell has been clocked at 4.6.

All-Northwest Suburban Conference player senior Steve Taylor, 5-11, 160, is back at tight end.

Several linemen are also back. They include seniors: center-defensive end Todd Daniels at 5-9, 175; tackle-defensive end Jay Moore at 5-10, 150; guard-defensive end Rauley Melendez at 5-7, 145; the biggest Ram, 6-3, 250 tackle Chris Magiera; guard-linebacker Eric Perham at 5-5, 140; center-defensive tackle Bill Harrigan; tackles Jacob Yukna, 5-10, 175; Todd Doyle, 5-11, 172; Mike Becker, 6-2, 215; Mike Willie Smith, 6-0, 140; and Bob Witt, 6-1, 155.

The Rams had a strong first week of practice. On offense, three of the seven series are in with about half the defense explained.

The pre-conference season includes Fox Valley Conference powerhouse Crystal Lake Central, which humiliated the Rams last year, Sept. 11, Marmion Sept. 18 and Wheaton St. Francis Sept. 26.

"I think we can go 3-1. If we are 3-1, we will be in the playoffs another year. If we are 2-2, it could be a struggle," Johnson said.

The Rams are looking to recapture that talent which guided them to the playoffs two straight years before last year's struggle.

"I've been very proud of the kids. There has been a tremendous amount of effort. If effort wins games, we'd be champions, but you still have to play the game," Johnson said.

As for this year's conference race, the fourth-year coach sees defending champ Wauconda as the early favorite.

Warren hopes '92 another vintage year for football

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The last time Warren Township High School football fans saw Mark Leginski take a snap from center, it was in a key moment in a Class 5A football game against Deerfield.

Starting quarterback Craig Shelton had been shaken up on a second-quarter play, meaning Leginski had to come in. Leginski kept the team together and the Blue Devils went on to win 19-13 and advance to the state quarterfinals.

If anyone needed any reminder of the great moments the 1991 season produced: the win over Stevenson in the snow, the playoff wins over Belvidere and Deerfield for a 10-2 record, the throwing of Shelton, the running of Bob Olson and the pass catching of Jeremy Wilmot, all one has to do is catch Coach Reggie Hughes on a day when he is proudly wearing a state quarterfinalist T-shirt.

"It carries over with the enthusiasm of the whole team," Hughes said as practice continued.

The Warren mentor, entering his seventh season as head coach and 21st at the school, feels this year's bunch is striving to achieve its own identity as it prepares for the Sept. 4 opener at Fenton.

"I have a lot of memorabilia from last year, both on and off the field. It was a great accomplishment for both the school and the community. Last year we re-established football at Warren," Hughes said.

"But this is 1992," he quickly adds. He has confidence the same feelings 1991 brought can be recaptured, but Warren faithful may see a different attack.

"Last year, because of the type of talent we had, we were able to throw the ball two-thirds of the time and run it for one-third," Hughes said. "Now, we may throw one-third and run two-thirds."

Leginski, with the above noted exception of the Deerfield game, did not see many pressure situations as he watched Shelton work his passing magic.

"He learned a lot of things and was able to focus and visualize," Hughes said of the 5-foot-9 inch, 150-pound Leginski.

The backfield candidates figure to be senior Bob Olson, junior Tim Marabella, 6-1, 195. Marabella was the leading rusher on the sophomore squad last year. Junior Clint Jackson and Jamie Marineau.

Ryan Taylor, a 6-1, 170-pound senior, also returns. "He is an excellent wide receiver, but he may see some time at quarterback. He has a great arm," Hughes said.

Brandon Schild, an all-conference pick last year, returns at tight end.

Hughes believes the offensive line is bigger than in previous years. Jake Reichert is a 6-3, 250-pound tackle while Dugan Rucic is 6-2, 185. Andy Aykol, a transfer from Round Lake, checks in at 6-3, 220.

While Olson will handle the punting, the field-goal kicking is up for grabs.

Antioch has cleats to fill

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

With the recent success of the Antioch Sequoit football squad, a 6-3 regular-season record and a trip to the Class 5A state playoffs, Head Coach Del Pechauer hopes this year's team has gained some experience from last year's playoff exposure.

"The seniors, we have now, have learned from the playoff exposure we had last year," said Pechauer. "We will try to get back (to the playoffs)."

But that maybe easier said than done. With the loss of Antioch standouts Tim and Tom Lehn to graduation, and stronger competition within the North Suburban Conference, the Sequoits have their work cut out for them when they travel to Libertyville Saturday, Sept. 5 for the season opener.

"We will be a middle of the pack team up this year," said Pechauer. "But, you never know what will happen until the season starts."

Not knowing is exactly what Pechauer means when he talks about this year's team, which will have several question marks at key positions when the season begins.

For openers, the team is still searching for a starting quarterback to lead the Sequoit offense. Leadership could come from Senior Eric Newcomb if he wins the job. If not, then Junior Casey O'Connell will call the plays for Antioch.

Other offensive contributors, according to Pechauer, will be running backs Rick Leukhardt, a junior, and Larry Janke, (Continued on Page 4) a senior.

In addition to the quarterback question, Pechauer is still looking for a leader on the defensive side of the football.

"We are looking for a leader to step up and take charge," said Pechauer. "Things are looking better on defense."

This leadership could come from cornerback Janke, or senior linebacker Dave Remter. "The defense has gotten better as camp has progressed," said Pechauer. "We had to call off the dogs during one practice last week. We are ready to play."

Overall though, Pechauer expects his team to be competitive despite his team's question marks and tough schedule, which includes battles with Lake Forest, Warren and Zion-Benton.

"It is going to be an exciting year for Antioch," said Pechauer.

Mustangs won't be taken lightly

Football games are, indeed, won in the trenches and Mundelein Coach Mike Egan believes his forces will have a chance to survive that battle this year.

Keying that effort are returning tackles Willie Norman, a 6-foot-1-inch 260-pounder and Bill Logan 6-4, 280.

Logan brushed up on his skills while attending a linemen camp at the University of Michigan this summer.

"We do have some size in the line," Egan said of one of his team's strengths.

In addition to Logan and Norman, topping the 200-pound mark are Andrew Schroeder, a 6-1, 220-pound senior, and Scott Wahlert (6-0, 200) and Scott Zupanic (6-3, 260).

Back from a knee injury is John Caldero, a 6-1, 185-pound offensive lineman and linebacker.

Tim Akins had a baptism of fire as he quarterbacked the 0-9 Mundelein team of last year.

"He has improved a lot on his throwing. He has gained a lot of confidence and matured a year. He knows what is expected of him," Egan said.

Senior Dennis Howell is back at a running back spot along with junior Shawn Hamilton, senior Steve Fuller, juniors Ethan Karolczak and Steve Schueler.

Schueler (5-10, 165) will also handling extra points and kickoffs for Mundelein, an infrequent occurrence last year.

"It was tough on us all. The motivation comes from the year of experience. They can't do any worse than last year. I like these kids. They've worked hard in the off-season. I feel confident going to battle with them," Egan, 1-17 in two years at Mundelein, said as his team entered the final week before the Saturday, Sept. 5 opener at Zion-Benton.

As for the North Suburban Conference, Egan sees two teams as cuts above the rest.

"Warren and Lake Forest," Egan predicted.

And with some bigger players battling in the line, the Mustangs could be ready to get that old monkey off its back.

Grant has new coach, outlook

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

"Back to the Future" is a must-see for this year's Grant football players. Not the movie — the attitude.

First-year Bulldog head coach Mark Barczak wants his team to regain some of the glory that was Grant and build on it this season.

"We're letting the kids know there is pride to be had playing at Grant," Barczak said. "We want the kids to be proud to wear the red and white."

Grant has just three starters — seniors Bob Gerstner, Rich Justus and Rob Medine — back from the team that went winless last season. The good news is the Bulldogs' 33-man roster includes 20 juniors. Last year, Barczak guided the sophomore team to a 6-2-1 mark.

"We're telling our seniors that we're a young team, but we're not playing for next season. We want to win right now," Barczak said.

"No. 1, I want the kids to be fundamentally sound. That's so vital. The first three days of practice, we worked on blocking and tackling. We can't put in a Bill Walsh offense."

What the offense will attempt to do is use balance to keep opponents off-balance.

"We'll vary our attack and run a balanced offense," Barczak said. "We'll keep it balanced and keep the defense away from its comfort zone. We'll use a deuce, a little bit of I and a lot of motion. We'll make the defense rotate and adjust to us."

Junior Shawn Powers (6-foot-1, 195 pounds) is set to start at quarterback.

Senior Mike Ward, a transfer from Richmond, and junior Aaron Butler are getting long looks at tailback. Senior Lou Notriano and junior Bret Bending are vying at fullback, while junior Scott Goodale will be at flanker or in the slot.

Senior Tim Culotta (6-3, 215) and junior Bill Richards (6-4, 225) are battling for the tight end spot.

Culotta could play split end, where classmate Nick Spadaro has been looking good.

The offensive tackles will probably be juniors Tom Usrey and Rich Egan. Three juniors — Matt Warmowski, Nate Laurell and George Heinz — will see a lot of action at guard, while Justus and junior Rob Bowman are working out at center.

Barczak said Bending (linebacker) and Butler (strong safety) appear to be the defensive leaders at this stage.

Culotta, Laurell, Notriano, Heinz, Richards, Egan, senior Jason Kunde and junior Chris Horsfell will see defensive line duty. Gerstner, Justus and Warmowski are being molded into nose tackles.

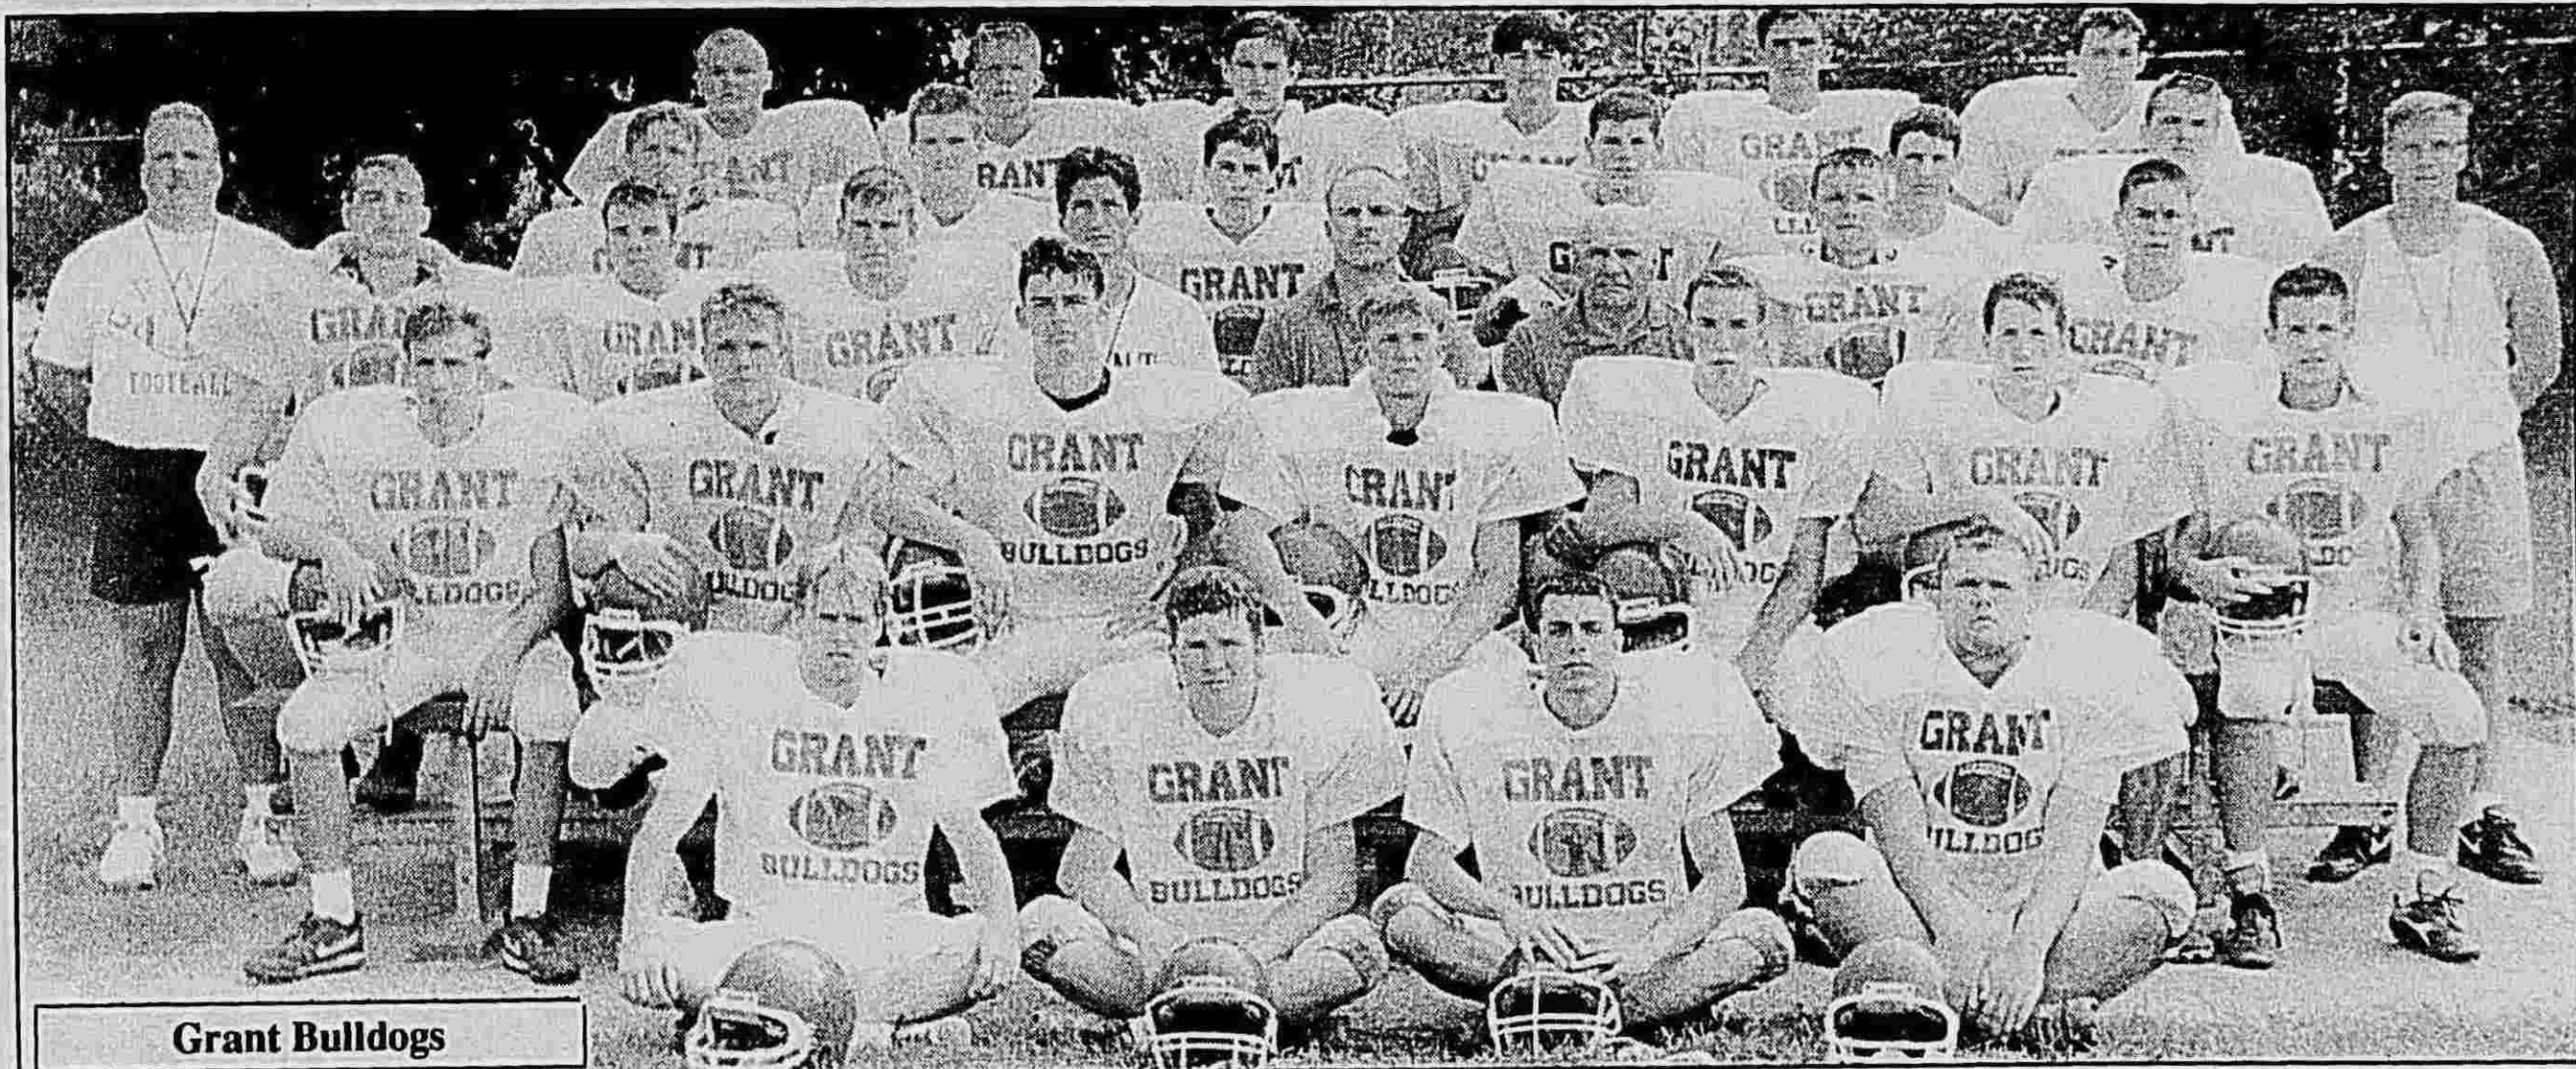

Good bets to join Bender at linebacker are Medine and juniors Mark Schweiss and Rob Rinkenberger.

Barczak said after Butler, the defensive backfield is wide open. Candidates include seniors Ben Robinson, Edgar Lentz and Ward and juniors Dan Colin, Shawn Divoky and Goodale and Dave Jakstas — the only sophomore on the varsity.

Notriano and Jakstas are possible punters, while junior Greg Jarr may handle the kicking chores.

Champs Wauconda hope road to repeat is smooth

by DAN BERNARD
Lakeland Newspapers

Wauconda High School Head Football Coach Bob Kasper wants everything to go smoothly this year for the defending champs of the Northwest Suburban Conference. Smooth as an Illinois prairie.

"People are going to be coming to play us now," Kasper said. "The key for us is going to be, don't get caught in any peaks or valleys. If we win first game, then okay, we go on and play the second one. If we lose our first game, okay, we go on and play our second."

"If the kids are able to keep focused and take each game one at a time, we should do all right."

Although Kasper avoided any optimistic predictions as the season began, the Bulldogs have good reason to feel confident. This year's squad includes a hefty number of returning seniors — 19, a big deal for a small school like Wauconda — as well as a handful of juniors who saw varsity action last year.

"Our strength is that we have some experienced people coming back on both sides of the game, offensively and defensively," Kasper said.

Among the potential stars in the returning crop are quarterback Byron Johnson, who "proved last year that he could lead the team," Kasper said. Running back Randy Brill made all-conference last year, while fullback Kevin Cajda had a great season of his own.

Dan Ritchie returns at center, having also taken all-conference honors last year. Also back are guards Trey Bennett and Ben Seelye and offensive tackle Nate Bowers.

"We're hoping their leadership will carry us again," Kasper said.

The Bulldogs' running attack is formed by the core of Brill, Cajda and Johnson along with running back Corey Kazimour, a junior, who nonetheless got quality field time last year. With the different talents of those big four, "We feel like we have a very balanced running attack," Kasper said. "Any one of those guys is capable of being all-conference for us."

Rounding out the returning power are wideouts Brian Kuzniar and Chris Merkner, both of whom saw plenty of play in the championship season past.

Three of last year's stars did not return, however, leaving three big holes to fill. Graduates John Sanew, a slotback, tackle Brian Hluchy, and wideout C.J. Lubeno were each all-conference ranked. And they lifted the team not only in scoring but in morale, Kasper said.

"Those three players were the catalysts of our team last year," Kasper said. Whatever players will take their place as the team's psychological boosters will emerge as the season progresses, he said.

In the size of its players, the Bulldogs are not huge but are well-sized for the conference. Wauconda's biggest assets are tackle Brad Gross at 285 pounds; junior Tim Randall, offensive and defensive tackle, at 250; Bowers, 230; Ritchie, 220; and Bennett, 205.

The coaches won't jinx the season by predicting a repeat title. But they will repeat one winning factor from last year: the team theme.

"Our saying for this year is, 'If it's good for the team, it's good for me,'" Kasper said. "We don't rely on one person or gear our offense around one person."

Wauconda's road to a repeat title begins Friday, Sept. 4 at home against Cary-Grove.

Rodriguez set to lead RL offense

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

There is good news and not-so-good news for Round Lake football fans when they watch their team with the the ball.

The good news is a talented group of experienced running backs and quarterback Clint Rodriguez.

The possible weakness is the people who will be doing the blocking. "We have a very inexperienced offensive line. But Clint is an excellent quarterback and he always gives you a chance to win," Round Lake coach Mike Dunn said.

Rodriguez is also a standout baseball player at Round Lake, playing center field. He batted leadoff for the Legion team this summer.

"Preparing for football season is a lot more intense," Rodriguez said.

Rodriguez has been playing baseball since he was 5 years old. He looks back with pride to two years ago when the Round Lake Colt team advanced to the national regionals.

"Toughness is an Attitude" is the theme for the Panthers this pre-season. Round Lake opens the season with a home game against McHenry Friday, Sept. 4.

Hope abounds during two-a-days and when everyone is 0-0. Rodriguez is confident the Panthers can return to the level of success of their 1990 playoff team.

"We have three real good backs who know how to run it," he said of the option.

The senior-dominated running back corp includes Vinnie Lira at 5-foot-9 and 165 pounds; Harry Gibson at 5-9, 165, Jason Morse at 5-9 160 and yet another Tesch, Luke, at 6-0, 210.

Round Lake is coming off a 4-5 season, a rare losing and non-playoff year for the Panthers. Dunn, in his 25th year coaching football (24 as a head coach) will be once again calling on the option.

Jerry French, a 6-1, 185-pound linebacker leads the group of starters on defense. Also back is tackle Aaron Yazzie, a 6-2, 200-pounder.

Tesch and Lira will return to their positions in the secondary.

Robert Swanson, whom Dunn said is good enough to start at other schools, is Rodriguez' back-up at quarterback.

Eddie Edison (5-9,160) returns at wide receiver as does fellow senior Mike Cardwell.

Dunn, like most of his counterparts, picks defending Northwest Suburban Conference champ Wauconda as the team to beat.

Rockets aim for fast start, finish

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

No doubt about it, the 1991 football season was an un-Richmond-Burton like experience.

The Rockets lost all three non-conference games before facing a new division, the Big Northern White.

But the Rockets caught fire in October and finished strong, making the Class 2A quarterfinals. The Rockets tied Warren for the most games played (12) in the area and Richmond's eight wins tied Wauconda for second. Libertyville's Dale Christensen has nine wins up on Richmond coach J. Randy Hofman, who finished the season with 109 Richmond wins.

Senior Jeff Christensen leads the Rockets into the 1992 season at quarterback. He will also handle the team's field-goal chores. It was his field goal against Genoa-Kingston that gave Richmond a key 13-12 win last year.

"He's a pretty good thrower," Hofman said.

B.G. Hunter returns to snap the ball to the QB for the third straight year. "He is a captain of the team and a team leader. He tells the other kids what to do," Hofman said.

Hunter prepared for the season by attending a camp at Bishop Dulligan in Wheaton.

Hofman believes the Rockets will have a talented receiving corps in seniors Jeff Swederski, Jeff Toler and Jeff Harris.

Richmond looks to have a variety of offensive schemes. "We run a multiple offense. In the game against Marengo in the playoffs, we ran a power-I. We can run almost anything," Hofman said.

The defense is anchored by linebacker Frank Pauley, all-conference player Hunter and Matt Zarnstorff.

"Practice has gone pretty well. After the first week, it gets a little easier to get inspired," Hofman said.

That first week features the initial meeting at Cuba City Friday, Sept. 4. That led to some clever one-liners in practice such as "Let's beat them Cubans."

Hofman, 105-21 in 12 years, would like nothing better than to have just that happening. That would be a more Richmond-like start.

Quality, not quantity is top Warhawk theme

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The old saying is there is strength through numbers, particularly in football. Coaches like to say they can have two platoons, that players will only have to go on offense or defense, that depth is a strength.

That is not the case at North Chicago Community High School.

"If nothing else, the kids will be in better condition as a starting point. We have 21 varsity players, and all will have to go both ways," North Chicago coach Rodney Hampton said.

Hampton is entering his first year at the helm at North Chicago after being an assistant first to Amos Jones, then to Mike Durrah last year. North Chicago is coming off a 4-5 season, but feels contention for the second North Suburban Conference crown in two years is possible.

"The players have been doing a lot of running, bleacher steps for 20 minutes, winds for 250 yards and "crabbing" for 200 yards. This is on a daily basis," Hampton explained.

North Chicago could very well have a two-quarterback look. Senior Jamal Patterson, 5-foot-10, 155 pounds, is back, but junior Javon Johnson (6-1, 190) should see some playing time as well.

"We'll have two quarterbacks in the realm of things. Javon will see just as much action. Both are very well situated to be the starter," Hampton said.

Ron Survillion (5-8, 180) is back at fullback while Cyrus Johnson and Steve Earl also return as running backs.

"Cyrus has improved. He's more goal-oriented than he ever has been. He is extremely focused this year. Ron has been lifting most of the summer and is up to 180-185 (a gain from 170 last year). Steve started last year and is one of the well kept secrets in the conference. He is definitely quick and can change directions at the tip of a hat," Hampton said.

Senior Awwal Abdullia (6-1, 160) and junior Caius Swopes, Graylon Bobo head the wide receiving corp.

"I believe in a well-rounded attack, but we will probably ruin more than we pass," he said.

"Defensively we're sound. It is a strong point now," Hampton said.

Linebackers Earl and Survillion are back as well as Demetrius Mitchell in the secondary.

Freshman punter Rashad Hashide (5-6, 152) has the raw talent.

Hampton is hoping the Warhawks, who open the season against pre-season favorite Lake Forest Saturday, Sept. 5, can start strong. "The toughest part of our schedule is at the beginning — Lake Forest, Stevenson and Warren. If we can win those three games, we can have an extremely successful season," Hampton said.

Hampton remembers well how North Chicago caught Lake Forest before it jelled in the season opener in 1990 and then demolished Stevenson 36-6. The Warhawks went on from there to go the playoffs for the first time.

Health, defense keys for 'Cats

by HEATHER McDONALD
Lakeland Newspapers

As long as the Libertyville football team stays healthy, they could be contenders in the North Suburban Conference this year, according to Coach Dale Christensen.

The Wildcats went 3-6 last year mainly because of injuries. Quarterback Ethan Waugh, a returning senior, sat out over half the season with a shoulder separation and back-up quarterback Andrew Robertson, a junior, suffered from a broken collar bone.

"We did not have the depth to oversee those injuries," said Christensen. "With two quarterbacks injured, it's hard."

Libertyville does not have the numbers to support the team if many injuries occur this year either.

"How we do this is year contingent on whether or not we stay healthy," Christensen said. "We can challenge any team, but to win, we have to stay healthy."

Along with keeping healthy, Christensen will be stressing defense. Libertyville has been known as a good defensive team and has shut down many good teams because of that. Christensen maintains that good defense brings about good offense.

"About 95 percent of people who have been in this game know that you win defensively," he said.

It helps that a number of last year's defensive men are returning this year. Christensen specifically pointed out two returning juniors, linebackers Andrew Robertson and Todd Gierthy. But the Wildcats also have a good offensive team.

"An outstanding senior Mark Richardson, a split-end, was Third time playoff charm for Skyhawk grid hopes?

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Visitors to Johnsburg High School football games will be able to have more seating this fall. Those with business in the press box will have new steps making the trip easier.

The Skyhawks are hoping two near misses in a row for the playoffs will inspire them for a strong start, giving the visitors to Johnsburg a favorable impression.

Johnsburg can switch hit at quarterback with a lefty and righty. The left-handed thrower is senior Pat Brey, a 6-foot-2-inch, 170-pounder. The righty is junior John Paul Dudley, a 6-3, 195-pounder.

"The difference is Pat is more of a runner while John is more of a passer," said Johnsburg coach Hap Farlow.

Russ Smith, who had 10 touchdowns and was the team's leading rusher last year, returns. Senior Todd Freund, who had eight touchdowns, is also back.

"For a number of reasons, we started more juniors than seniors in the last game of the year. That should give us some kids with experience heading into the first game," Farlow said.

The last game of 1991 was an emotional battle for Johnsburg, looking to get into the playoffs with a win over Wauconda. It came down to the last play deep in Wauconda territory. The Bulldog defense held, sending the Skyhawks home settling for their second-straight winning season.

"That is the first time we have had back-to-back winning seasons in the history of the school. We can attribute that to either better senior players or more effort. I would say it is a good balance of both," Farlow said.

League MVP Matt Christman, the QB, is gone, along with line standout Jake Wakitsch. Few Johnsburg fans will ever forget the 34-31 win over Round Lake at mid-season with Christman scoring with seconds left. "That was the most exciting high school game I have ever been associated with," Farlow said.

Linebacker Mike Eiserman, safety Brey and defensive end Jay Lennon are players who saw a lot of playing time on defense.

Ed Juergensen, a 6-2, 210-pounder, and Mike Buchanan, are back on the line. Ken Michels, a 6-1, 240-pounder also could lead the battle of the trenches.

The kicking game remained a question mark heading into the team's annual pre-season scrimmage.

Richmond-Burton is no longer on the schedule as a non-conference opponent, as the Skyhawks open by hosting

Dundee-Crown Friday, Sept. 4.

"Our No. 1 objective is to be 6-3 and make the playoffs. We think 6-3 will get us into the playoffs. In the last two years, we would have been the third highest in Class 4A or the fourth highest if we had won the last game.

As for the Northwest Suburban Conference race, Farlow picks defending champ Wauconda.

Bears ready for 2nd FVC slate

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Hope springs eternal when the record book states 0-0 and the main chores are organizational in nature rather than how will you stop the other team's 6-foot-6, 250-pound lineman.

"I'm very enthusiastic. I'm really happy with the way the kids have been working and their attitude is very positive," Lake Zurich Coach Wayne Kuklinski said.

The Bears are entering their second season in the Fox Valley Conference, and took over from Jacobs as the conference's doormat with seven losses. That came after opening-season wins over Momence and Grant, the same pre-conference schedule the Bears have this fall.

Quarterback Jerry Blum, a 6-2, 165-pound senior, leads a large contingent of returnees. "He has matured and he throws the ball better. He's a captain and a leader," Kuklinski said.

Joe Carbis, the team's second leading rusher last year, is back at fullback. Senior wide receiver Jack Henderson and senior tackle Scott Rybarczyk (5-10, 225) also return. Henderson started the second half of last year as a safety and kicker but will play wide receiver.

Bears

Senior tackle Blair Epstein is the biggest Bear at 5-10, 235. Jason Miller, a junior and another tackle, is next at 225. "We're probably a little on the small size," Kuklinski said.

James Cuellar, a standout pitcher at Lake Zurich, is back at halfback and defensive back. He played freshman and sophomore years, but did not play last year. "He has been a pleasant surprise," Kuklinski said of the senior.

There are 29 juniors on the Lake Zurich pre-season roster and they won't be doing a lot of sitting. "We have four juniors on the offensive line. How they will do will be a big factor," he said.

"We're in the Fox Valley to stay — we might as well make the best of it," Kuklinski said.

Year II in the FVC begins Sept. 18 with a home game against Crystal Lake South. The Lake Zurich mentor, in his 10th year, eyes McHenry as the team to beat.

Carmel contingent prepares for 'payback' in '92

by STEVE PETERSON

OK, it's a cliché.

But the old saying, "The road to success is always under construction," is doubly true at Carmel High School these days. A maze of arrows and fences point a visitor to the right direction at the Mundelein school. Football coach Mike Fitzgibbons is hoping a junior quarterback can lead the Corsairs back to the playoff success of 1989 and 1990.

Being a sophomore starting quarterback in the varsity wars of the East Suburban Catholic Conference may be akin to shooting an arrow and having to hit an apple. Chances for failure are great, while success may be hard to come by.

After a baptism of fire in a 2-7 Carmel year in 1991, Tony Longmire is ready to take charge. "He has done a great job. We are very pleased. He is playing like a senior," Fitzgibbons said.

Longmire completed 50 percent of his passes last year. This fall, a healthy, talented and consistent running game gives the 5-foot-9-inch, 170-pound Longmire some strong options.

Running back Jermaine Williams is back after 375 yards in 55 carries in just 15 quarters last year. Injuries cut his football season short, but not long enough before the North Chicago native contributed his deadly accurate three-point basketball shot. Other seniors looking to see starting time as running back are Jamil Swift, 5-8, 165 and J.D. Clark, 6-1, 220.

One of the T-shirts being worn by the Corsairs '92 contingent carries a simple message: "It's Operation Payback."

"The attitudes are terrific and we have had no major injuries. The seniors have really stuck together and done a lot of lifting," Fitzgibbons said.

Defensively, returning are defensive back Brad Kalk, and second-leading tackler Dan Medina at linebacker.

Junior Vince Murray added 10 to 15 pounds to his strong defensive tackle build. Tackle Pat Potempa, end Art Loud, linebacker Steve Zuicker also return.

Garrett Jansen will handle the extra points, Matt Head and Rob Hiltz will punt and Clark will kickoff.

"We're trying to turn special teams into 'special—ty' teams. We are really emphasizing the kicking game,"

Fitzgibbons said.

Fitzgibbons is 32-26 in six years at Carmel as the Corsairs work out the kinks before the home season opener Friday, Sept. 4 against St. Laurence.

"Getting back to the playoffs and winning the conference. We can do that if we gain confidence and play like we can," Fitzgibbons said.

Patriots plan smart moves to battle back to playoffs

DAN BERNARD
Lakeland Newspapers

If the Stevenson High School Patriots make it to the playoffs again this year, it'll be by brains as much as by brawn, says Head Coach Bill Mitz.

"We've got some bright kids," Mitz said. "You teach them something one or two times and they remember it — rules, alignments, assignments."

Leading the Patriots' charge are a trio of returning seniors who Mitz says have earned leadership positions by their dedication over the last year. This year's tri-captains are Gus Steger, safety; Dave Valenti, linebacker; and J.B. Gilmore, linebacker.

"They worked hard all winter, and they're leading by example," Mitz said.

Mitz' goal is to repeat the feat the team has pulled off for the last four years and make the North Suburban Conference playoffs. The key, Mitz says, is "hard work and discipline." That's something Mitz and assistant coaches Tom Baumann, Charlie Bilodeau, Tom Bujnowski, Phil Raffaelli, Craig Sincora, Bob Smith, can do something about it.

But then there's the part of winning that is out of their control — "getting good breaks," as Mitz said.

It was one bad break that cost Stevenson the conference title last year, Mitz believes: In the fourth quarter of the game against Warren High School, a snap to the Stevenson punter sailed over his head.

"What can you do?" Mitz said. "Sometimes it comes down to one play where things just go wrong."

Injuries were only a slight problem last season, and Mitz said he expected to see all players up to full strength by the start of the season. Steger broke his jaw in an accident off the field before the Warren game and lost weight over the summer, but has recovered.

The Patriots have a moderate number of seniors returning. And the team is receiving a surprise bonus in transfer student Brian Birkbichler, a junior-year tackle who comes to Stevenson from Wilmette's Loyola Academy. Is Birkbichler a "secret weapon" for Stevenson? "We're not telling anyone yet," said Mitz.

Smart move.

Ankle injury ends year, career for Vikes' Borzick

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Lake County Vikings were comfortably ahead 35-0 at halftime of a game Saturday against Chicago Thunder.

Instead of being part of the huddle, Steve Borzick was accepting what every player has to accept at some time or another. That is, the end of the playing career.

"I'm going to miss it. I've made a lot of great friends on this team," Borzick said.

Borzick was going up for a pass in a contest against St. Louis. The Renegades' defender and the veteran Vikings secondary man collided going for the ball. Borzick found himself in agony on the 45-yard-line at Round Lake senior high.

'Cats

our leading receiver last year. I feel he will probably be one of the better ones in the conference," Christensen said. "And senior running back Mike Larsen has developed in a year's time to be a viable contender to carry the ball very well for us."

Though Warren and Stevenson will be "big contenders, the favorites," Christensen said he has some new weapons this year. Besides, the coaches concentrate on their own team's progress.

"We concentrate on ourselves rising to a new plateau every week and stress to the boys the real intricacies of football," Christensen said.

"A lot of the players visited me right away in the hospital," Borzick, a 1989 Waukegan East graduate, said.

No. 45 underwent surgery for an ankle a few hours later after finding three breaks and one dislocation, ending his season. Somewhat fittingly, the cast has Chicago Bears stickers on it.

Vikings Coach Russ Kraly knows, even after a 49-0 win over the hapless Chicago Thunder, that the Vikes will miss the three-year player.

"The secondary played well but was not really challenged. We're going to miss Borzick. We'll miss him next week (at Milwaukee Sept. 6) or against Racine or Palos. It will come home to haunt us. Scott Barns stated. It will basically be a whole new thing," Kraly said.

While Borzick was not in the lineup, others stepped forward. Mark Van Guilden, a first-year player, recorded a first-quarter safety. Arlo Miller had six tackles for losses.

Offensively, a fourth-quarter touchdown run by Garrett Horn ended close-but-no cigar string. The one-yard run was set up by a 22-yard jaunt by Horn.

"Garrett has looked great for us all year. Every time he carries the ball, he has the potential to break it away. It finally paid off. With any luck, he should have had three or four touchdowns by now," Kraly said.

Remaining Vikings games: Saturday, Sept. 12, Racine Raiders, 6 p.m. at Round Lake High; Saturday, Sept. 19, Palos-Orland Park Force, 6 p.m. at Round Lake High; Saturday, Sept. 28 at Gary Golden Bears, 7 p.m., Gilroy Stadium; Saturday, Oct. 3, at Racine Raiders, 7 p.m.; Saturday, Oct. 10, Milwaukee Express, 6 p.m. at Round Lake High; Saturday, Oct. 17, at Chicago Thunder, 7 p.m. at Hanson Stadium.

Knights gain lead, hold on for win

Lake County Knights built a three-touchdown lead then held on for a 21-14 semi-pro football win over the Chicago Chargers at Triton College.

The win gives the Knights a 2-1 record heading into a game against the Chicago Panthers at Hanson Stadium, Fullerton & Central in Chicago Chicago on Sept. 6. Kick-off is set at 3:30 p.m.

Earlier, the Knights won a forfeited game by the Broncos but lost to the Indiana Untouchables 13-0.

The always-tough defense scored the first TD against the Chargers on a fumble recovery in the end zone by Eric Disch.

Dave Ayers caught 30-yard pass from quarterback Gordon Bittner for the second TD for a 14-0 halftime lead.

Bittner ran for a 15-yard touchdown for a 21-0 lead in the third quarter.

Chicago scores came on a 10-yard run in the third quarter after a deflected pass kept the drive alive. David Hudgens tallied on a 47-yard pass from Claudell Robertson and Eric Mesko scored the other TD on a seven-yard TD pass.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search, Last month my employer decided to relocate his corporation to another state, leaving me and all but 3 co-workers without jobs. I have registered with my local unemployment office and the slight income helps. I have been on an avid search and am finding it difficult to find a job right now and so I have been considering picking up some temporary work in the mean time. I figure this will allow me the flexibility to interview for jobs while earning some money. My question is, will this effect my unemployment benefits if I do? B.H. - Fox Lake.

A: Dear B.H., You will want to check with the unemployment representative you registered with. Typically the state would love to see you get a new job whether it be permanent or temporary. For your general knowledge, if you take on a temporary assignment you are able to earn a percentage of your weekly benefits without it affecting your status. In some cases once an assignment would be finished, you may be required to re-file for benefits. Work is work, and the more exposure in the work place plus the possibility of a temporary assignment leading to something permanent, certainly does outweigh the slight inconvenience of re-filing.

Q: Dear...Search, Almost 1 year ago today I took a 3 month medical leave of absence from my company for which I have been employed 6 years. During my absence my boss left the company and was replaced by someone internal. I came back to find I now report to someone who I never really got along with. I should be up for a review soon and find it difficult to believe that I will be looked upon objectively and therefore feel that perhaps I should go to our personnel department and request my review be done by someone else. Do you agree? F.R. - Libertyville

A: Dear F.R., Slow down!!! First of all you do not mention whether or not you have been approached about this review. It sounds as though you are assuming quite a bit and expecting the worst! Personally speaking I would let nature take its course and see what happens. Your feeling may or may not be justified. However, going over your bosses head and straight to the personnel department at this time would be a big mistake. Trust me!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy c/o Lakeland Newspapers, P.O. Box 268, Grayslake, IL 60030

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're on a continued high from last week thanks to your problem-solving abilities. However, don't let that optimism blind you to yet another problem lurking at work. The weekend looks good for relaxation and leisure.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your decision to be more gregarious will pay off this week, and you'll find yourself in the spotlight. This spills over into your social life as well. Don't be surprised when someone who had been avoiding you offers a hand in friendship.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Much to your dismay, you'll find yourself embroiled in an unpleasant confrontation on the job front. Be careful when choosing sides as you must weigh everything carefully. This may be a good time for you to go over some travel literature and plan a much-needed trip.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You may have some trouble this week shaking off a pesty admirer who just refuses to stop following you around. Take a firm stand on this. You'll find that this person is more needy than you can take right now. Rest up this weekend.

LEO (July 23-August 22) Now that the bulk of your decision-making at work is out of the way, you can set your sights on some recreation time. Talk over possible travel plans with loved ones. Their insights and feedback will prove very helpful and pleasurable in the long run.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) This is a good week for you to take a much-needed breather from the hustle and bustle of past weeks. Don't be afraid to be totally self-indulgent. However, do beware of credit card risks. If you must buy, pay cash and use discretion.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) Your energy will be on the wane this week, so do be sure to retire early. If you don't, you'll find yourself falling down on the job, much to the irritation of higher-ups. While you can normally do several things at one time, this isn't the week to attempt it.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) It's time for a reality check. All the recent celebrating has you too apt to daydream, which doesn't bode well for the tasks at hand. It's roll-up-your-sleeves time. Get to it, and you'll be ready for a pleasant weekend break.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) A loved one continues to be supportive and willing to compromise. Take advantage of this to foster better communications. You'll find yourselves renewing your bond and enjoying each other more. The weekend looks good for a romantic getaway.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19) Your tendency toward introspection isn't a good thing to indulge this week. Others look to you for decisions, and you must be ready to make them. However, stop and smell the roses this weekend. You deserve the break.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18) Ever the social animal, you'll find yourself paying the price this week, both in lost energy and lack of focus. Get some more rest at night so you'll be able to deal with the important matters at hand. Turn down invitations.

PISCES (February 19-March 20) While you usually want things done NOW, it would be better to relax a bit and just enjoy some peace and quiet. You've been working much too hard, and you need some time off. This is a good time to take it.

Tree represents life for 7 cancer patients

by HEATHER McDONALD
Lakeland Newspapers

Seven returning hospital patients shoveled dirt in unison when they planted a flowering crab apple tree to symbolize their 5-year victory over cancer.

The tears that accompanied the hugs between volunteers and staff members, and the returning cancer patients captured the essence of life better than the tree ever could.

"Oh gosh, it's so good to see you again," Polly Freiday, a 4-year volunteer with American International Hospital, cried as she hugged Mona Moore of Indiana.

It was a time for doctors to express not only their congratulations to their patients, but also thanks for being an inspiration to them.

"We have the pain you do with the biopsy and the sticks, and we're sick with you during chemo," said R. Michael Williams, M.D., senior medical director for Cancer Treatment Centers of America. "But we also share the enjoyment with you."

"Your accomplishments inspire me and the staff," Stephen Weinstein, American International Hospital's president and CEO, said. "You remind us of our mission — to help people conquer cancer. It is your guidance that helps us to eventually find cures for other cancers."

"You, the patients, say it better than anything does."

Although the doctors thank the patients, it is still the doctors that the patients feel have done the work with them.

"I was told I'd live 20-30 days," said Ewald Ehresmann, a former patient from Manly, Iowa. "I came here, and look at me. It's been six years ago. I've sent 16 people here myself."

As Ehresmann closed his speech by thanking the doctors, staff and other former patients for their support, the crowd erupted with applause, and tears.

Tears of life, that nourished the patients through their struggles, and will nourish the 31 trees planted in recognition of their victory.

Vikes' Quist makes most from a chance meeting

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

It could have been any one of hundreds of afternoons at Warren Township Center.

There was Gurnee resident Wes Quist, throwing the football around with some of his buddies. Injuries had previously cut his high school career at Warren Township High School short. If he would play football again more seriously than the fun at the township center may have been thoughts. Directing a 49-0 win over the Chicago Thunder was probably not in the top 10.

"I was playing football with my friends at Warren Township Center one day and Rick Starosta (Vikings player and part owner) asked me to come out for the team," Quist recalled.

For the last three years, Quist has fulfilled the role of backup QB, but this Saturday night, he was called on to start and the eight-of-11 four touchdown passing was the end result. The 49-0 win over the Thunder improved the Vikings to 2-1 before a key Sept. 6 game at Milwaukee.

Starting quarterback Walter Tesch has apparently quit the team. The week before, he had a rough seven-for-25 passing in a 6-0 loss to St. Louis.

"I have no idea; he has never talked to me," head coach Russ Kraly said of Tesch's leaving.

"Sam Toia was the starter the first year and the last two years was with Walter. This year I hope it is my year.

"I found out about it (Tesch's quitting) after practice Tuesday night. Coach (Russ Kraly) told me to practice hard on Thursday. It (the lopsided win) is a little easier, but the way Coach Horn (Bob, offensive coordinator) really pushed us hard in practice to get our timing down, get together with the plays. The coaches said,

'you have been a backup, this is your chance,' Quist said.

"He just needs some experience with the first string unit. It's something to build on, positive," Kraly said.

The running game got things going less than 10 seconds into the contest. Bob Lochmann scored on a 17-yard run. Mark Van Guilden then netted a safety for an 8-0 lead. Quist found Starosta open for one of two touchdown passes for three yards.

He hit Brian Landsverk on a 17-yard pass in the third quarter for a 35-0 lead. A 26-yard pass to Stu Stehl and a oneyard TD run by Garrett Horn completed the onslaught.

"Walter has a power arm. I can't compare with that. I have to lead the receivers. Walter can rely on his arm strength. I have to rely on more poise," Quist said.

In his first Vikings year, Toia showed Quist the ropes, with special trips from his Chicago job. "I had never played at this level, I felt I was behind. That is why Rick and Sam spent so much time with me," Quist, 23, said.

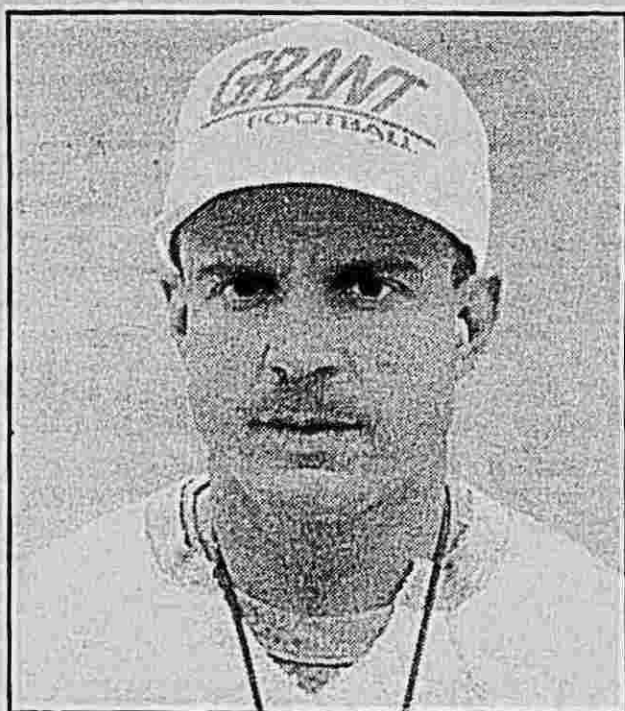

"At first, I was a little upset. We talk a lot on the phone about what might work here, what might work there. As a backup quarterback my eye on the defense to try and help him as much as I could," he said.

Quist was called on to start one game last year against Milwaukee when Tesch had injured ribs.

Barczak answers call to take over at Grant

Mark Barczak

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

A conversation with Mark Barczak, Grant's new head football coach:

"So, Grant was 0-9 last year, right?"

"What?"

"I said, Grant didn't win any games last year."

"Blast deer? No, I'm my more of a fisherman myself."

"I mean, will it be hard to shake this recent losing tradition?"

"Refusing extradition? No, none of our players are in trouble."

"No, Mark, will it be difficult to instill a winning attitude?"

"Grinning with gratitude? Hey, I don't have time for this nonsense — I've got a team to run."

It wasn't quite as bad as that, but Barczak, a usually fit-as-a-fiddle 36-year-old, has been battling a severe ear infection since preseason practice started Aug. 17. It's been bad enough that he's had to wear a hearing aid.

"It's improving, but the doctor said it might run up to six weeks," Barczak said of the affliction. "It's been torture — it's embarrassing."

Barczak did hear the call to take over as the Bulldogs' head man after serving as an assistant for 15 years. As Barczak is no stranger around Fox Lake, he's also well-acquainted with winning. His sophomore team compiled a 6-2-1 record and was the unofficial Northwest Suburban Conference champ in 1991.

Barczak grew up on Chicago's Southside and played his prep ball at Brother Rice High School.

From that perspective, Lake County seemed like another country.

"We thought going up here was like going to Canada," Barczak said.

When it was time to go to college, however, Barczak went way north to Lakeland College in Sheboygan, Wis., where he owned the starting nose guard position for four years. He was team captain during his senior year.

"I couldn't have been that good — (Mike) Ditka never gave me a buzz," Barczak joked.

Three of Barczak's buddies at Lakeland College — Mike Simmons, Bobby Harrison and Mike Roberts — were from this area. When Barczak graduated in 1978, Simmons told him about an opening at Grant. Barczak's been right at home ever since. He teaches health and social studies.

Barczak has just three returning starters and a junior-heavy roster to work with, but he's getting some able assistance from his staff. Varsity assistants Fred Loffredo and Bob Koltz both have been head coaches themselves.

"It's been overwhelming to get us ready to play," Barczak said. "Those two gentlemen have been holding my hand. It's nice to have their expertise to fall back on. There's a wealth of knowledge here."

The rest of Barczak's staff includes Frank Cittadino, Brian Kibitlewski, Rich Becmer, Ken Gardner and Kurt Rous. The last four all played at Grant at one time or another.

Barczak wants his players to be hard-nosed but not hard-headed.

"I want our kids to be hitters, but I want them to be gentlemen. They can save the finger-pointing and taunting for their pro-wrestling careers."

Warren fans to hear new voice on the P.A. system

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

It is changing-of-the-guard time when it comes to the public address system at Warren Township High School.

For decades, Warren fans heard golf coach Fred Kattner introduce starting lineups, the cheerleaders, and of course the 50-50 Booster Club drawing.

"Now I know what it felt like when they replaced (basketball coach) John Wooden at UCLA," Joe Stephenitch said. "I've been a public address announcer for Little League baseball and have talked with a lot of groups, but football will be different."

Stephenitch, who is the school's Future Business Leaders of America advisor, was recommended by Kattner.

The new voice of the Blue Devils will be listening closely to area announcers at games the first two weeks of the season. Warren's home opener is Sept. 18 against North Chicago.

Also at Warren, Mike Kunkle is back to his athletic director role only this fall at Warren Township High School.

The long-time varsity head coach at Warren returned to the field to assist Reggie Hughes the last two seasons. Tony Flippo will coach defensive ends and linebackers. Other assignments at the state quarterfinalist: Randy Cashmore will handle wide receivers and tight ends; Dave Sibley line and Hughes quarterbacks and running backs.

Perhaps due to the success of the 10-2 team last year, growth in the district, or whatever, Warren is up to 175 players this year.

Struggles back as spiker, Serdar to attend Louis U.

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

A familiar face to DePaul sports fans took the court when the Blue Demons opened the 1992 season this week.

Ashley Struggles is expanding her athletic career with the Blue Demons to include volleyball this fall. Struggles is entering her senior year and earned a softball scholarship to the Chicago school.

Meanwhile, a former North Suburban Conference foe, Kate Serdar, is attending National Louis University in Evanston this fall after competing in softball last year at the College of Lake County.

"Ashley has been away from volleyball for a couple of years, but she will catch up in a few weeks. She is dedicated and she has quickness," DePaul coach

Anna Marie Marassae said. Struggles, who set the DePaul softball record for stolen bases this spring, is coming into a program which was 32-7 last year, the best finish for DePaul volleyball.

"She has a pretty good spin serve," Marassa said.

The Blue Demons opened the season with a match against Colorado State Wednesday before competing in this weekend's Colorado Invitational.

Struggles' softball talents could carry over to volleyball. "She has a great first step. On defense, seeing the ball is very important," she said.

Serdar will also be joining a team coming off a banner year. National Louis, a NAIA school, was 30-7 in softball last year.

Serdar learned of National Louis from another pitcher on last year's CLC team. Lynette Kowalke. Kowalke, a Mundelein graduate, will be pitching for the Evanston-based school.

Serdar informed the team of her move to National Louis before a team organizational meeting last week. "It was hard because I made a lot of friends there," the former Warren standout said.

Serdar is also looking to play basketball. "I really want to play basketball. I found out their point guard is not coming back," she said.

Serdar spent a semester at Northern Michigan University before coming to CLC this spring. She pitched and played shortstop for CLC. At National-Louis, she will only play infield.

Olsson's racing squad set for pro series title effort

A Libertyville area resident is guiding a racing team gunning for the title in the Oldsmobile Pro Series.

Ove Olsson owns Olsson Engineering, whose driver, Tony Ave, is three points off the lead. The team finished second in a race in Three Rivers, Ontario, Canada, and will be returning to Elkhart Lakes, Wis. for a Sept. 12-13 "Chicken" regional cookout.

"It's the competition," Olsson said of what keeps him going after 25 years in auto racing.

Olsson has worked with NFL great Walter Payton, John, Jeff and Michael Andretti and Freddy Kottolinsky.

"He's a good kid. His father used to race against us," Olsson said of Ave. "He hates to finish second." Ave is a Hurley, Wis. resident.

The Olsson team has been in some close races this year, such as the one it finished second at Watkins Glenn, New York. The cars average 100 to 105 MPH. The team won the Mid-Ohio Sportscar course and the New Orleans Grand Prix. The team set a new pro series track record during the race.

Keaskowski signs letter

John Keaskowski has signed a national letter of intent to play soccer and wrestle at Lindewood College.

Keaskowski graduated from Round Lake Senior High in June. In soccer, he was named all-Northwest Suburban Conference. His wrestling accolades include conference, regional and qualified for sectionals twice.

Keaskowski is the son of Robert and Mary Janet Keaskowski of Round Lake Park and plans to pursue a career in engineering at the St. Charles, Mo. school.

Dennis Kratz of Antioch continued to take giant steps toward his first-ever track championship as he scored his tenth feature win of the season in the 20-lapper for sportsman. Rubicon's Romy Baus won his fourth mini-sprint main as he closes in on his first track championship in the inaugural season for the motorcycle-powered winged machines at Wilmot. Roy Morrison of Antioch took the checkered flag in the mini-modified main.

Moulis put his Fox Lake Harbor/McHenry Welding/Auto Connection/Gulf Coast Graphics Maxim into the lead from his outside row one starting berth. Mike Frost began to challenge Moulis as the pair worked lapped traffic on lap 15. The two had pulled wing to wing on lap 16 just before two cars tangled coming out of turn four right in front of the front-running duo. Both narrowly missed the spinning cars which resulted in the only caution. Moulis pulled away on the restart with the clear race track ahead and went on to his first feature win since July 3 at Wilmot. Frost, Dennis Spitz, Joe Roe and Al Schmidt completed the top five.

"I saw Mike's front end just before the wreck," admitted Moulis. "It was just as close for me getting involved in it as it was for Mike. I'm especially happy about the win since my dad, Joe Moulis, is in the stands for the first time since he had open-heart surgery (July 3). This makes the win even more special."

Kratz started up front by luck of the pole heat pill and the pointleader wasted little time putting his Don Hansen Alignment & Service/Joliet Valves/Sinclair Racing Engine Assembly Thunderbird into the lead. The only caution came on lap four for a spin. Kratz built up a sizable lead with Scott Kuxhouse, who had started last in the 20-car field by having won the feature the week prior, methodically working his way through the crowd. Kuxhouse took runnerup spot with 3 laps to go, but Kratz was too far gone. Kuxhouse, Jay Crichton, Larry Surleta and Jukka Myllymaki rounded out the top five. "I have to dedicate this win to Debbie Zillmer who works the pit gate," said Kratz. "She and I had a little disagreement earlier in the year, but now she's probably my biggest fan. The car ran super. Mr. Sinclair worked on the motor this week and we never got above 180 degrees, whereas last week we had to pull out because it was running too hot."

The mini-modified main saw several laps of three- and four-wide competition in their non-stop event which also posted a track record 3:24.34 for the 10-laps. Hank Hovorka led the first lap, breaking out of a four-wide pack. On the second lap, Roy Morrison put his Antioch Auto Center machine in front down the frontstretch as he broke out of a three-wide battle with Hovorka and Glen Verneze. R. Morrison went on to his second feature win of the season. Verneze, Jim Morrison, Hovorka and Hermie Schultz completed the top five. "This is a big race track," said Roy Morrison in response to a question about what these go-kart like machines were doing going four-wide.

Wilmot Speedway will host a double-header of Labor Day holiday weekend action at Wisconsin's Clay Center of Speed.

On Saturday, Sept. 5, will be sprints and sportsman along with the Old Style Non-Winged Modified Wisconsin Challenge. On Sunday, Sept. 6 with sprints and sportsman plus the Old Style Winged Modified Wisconsin Challenge and the 10-car, 10-lap J&L Oil Sprint Shootout Invitational.

Grandstands open each night at 5 p.m. with time trials at 6:15 p.m. and the first race scheduled at 6:45 p.m.

The annual Wilmot Speedway Model Car Contest was held with 20 entries.

In the senior division, Doug Drews of Sheboygan was first with three super-modified models, Ron Shepherd of Kenosha second with a Richard Petty Fan Appreciation Diorama and honorable mention Dave Johnson of Sussex third with a Sammy Swindell Diorama and honorable mention John Strycmarske for his sprint car slot cars. In the junior division, Robert Hartnell of Kenosha, 17-years old, took first for his five month project, Guy Fobrook number five sprinter, Rob Matthews of Wadsworth, second with his 1953 Street Rod, Joshua Davidson of Union Grove third with his Zrl Corvette and honorable mention to five year old Kenneth Johnson, Jr. for his wedge modified.

Golfer gains an ace at Renwood C.C.

A Grayslake golfer netted a hole-in-one while another shared top honors in a mixed couples event at Renwood Country Club.

Zvi Polster of Grayslake netted the ace Aug. 22 on the par three No. 10 hole. He used a nine iron.

Grayslake resident Jill Koch, meanwhile and her partner, Mike Hahn of Round Lake Beach, were low net finishers in a mixed couples tourney with a 68.

Joy Cardin of Round Lake and Lee Martinek of Round Lake Beach were low gross with an 84.

Renwood will host a Friends of Renwood Scramble on Sept. 27.

State cuts reach parks

The Illinois Legislature's failure to approve increased fees, coupled with budget cuts it imposed will result program reduction and total closures at 40 state parks, including one in Lake County.

In Lake County, Illinois Beach State Park will experience reduced camp ground check station operation and a reduced patrol of the nature preserve.

More than 160 positions will be eliminated state wide, with 67 persons expected to be laid off. The layoffs are expected to be effective on Oct. 15.

Cuts imposed by the legislature will reduce a planned new Conservation Police Officer training class to 10 recruits and delay its start-up until next April.

Memorial fund is established

Lake County Society for Human Development has established a memorial fund for Albert Klass, who passed away on June 29. In 1953, Klass was one of the original founders of the Retarded Children's Educational Society, presently the LCSHD.

The ultimate goal of the society is to assist individuals with disabilities in becoming as independent as possible through employment and community integration.

Klass, born in 1907, was a lifelong Lake County resident and member of the Waukegan Moose Lodge for more than 50 years.

The money received from the fund will be used to purchase needed equipment for the clients of the agency.

For more information call Arlene Demb at 872-1700.

Parents need new bus stop before a 'child is killed'

District says parents' plans are not safe

by Daniel M. Becker

Lakeland Newspapers

Many of us remember our parents' exaggerated tales regarding their daily walk to school. The ones where they had to walk uphill — both ways, fight bears and trudge through those gleaming, seven-foot high snow drifts.

Unfortunately for children at the Brookhaven development in Gurnee, their perilous walk represents fact, not fiction.

Due to the infamous "red-tape run-around," children ages 5 to 11 must walk approximately a half-mile, sometimes through snow, and dodge heavy, on-coming traffic. This journey gets them to a bus stop, where they must stand on one of the busiest streets in Gurnee — O'Plaine Road, between Grand Avenue and Washington Street.

These elementary school children, who attend Gurnee Grade School District 56, often stand, carefully watching commuter buses, trucks and rush hour traffic zoom past.

These elementary school children deserve better; they deserve a bus stop off of a busy thoroughfare, parents have said.

Three parents at Brookhaven have tried to spearhead a campaign as an attempt to move the bus stop closer to the multi-family development, but the school district says the parents' plans for a new stop are not feasible nor safe.

Bobbi Scott, Barb Lockbaum and Bonnie Esquivel, parents of children who attend School District 56, have worked since last winter to resolve the situation "before somebody's child gets killed."

After walking door-to-door, collecting a 300-signature petition and sending it certified mail on April 30 to Gurnee Mayor

Richard Welton, the three thought their children may soon be spared the dangerous bus stop.

The parents say they have yet to hear anything from the mayor.

The petition was reportedly also sent to the school district superintendent, Wayne Schurter.

"We looked at this issue about two years ago and review it every year," Schurter said. "I am going to look at it again with the city's village manager and see what can be done."

One bus driver, noted the parents, said the bus service cannot take the extra five to 10 minutes to drive inside the housing development.

Another driver said, according to the parents, the buses cannot turn around in the complex because the "cul-de-sacs are too small."

The Gurnee Fire Department, however, has no problem making the turns with its ladder trucks. As a general rule, the fire department approves a housing development's cul-de-sacs to ensure an adequate turning radius for safety concerns.

"The turning base for a fire truck is different than the one for a school bus; a bus cannot make that turn without backing up," Schurter said. "We also don't want an unsafe situation where the school bus has to pull forward and then back up to make a turn when children are running for the bus."

School District 56 Transportation Director Linda Miltimore, who visited the site on Aug. 28, had no comment when called.

Despite the drawbacks, there is one final solution that may keep the children off O'Plaine Road.

Schurter said one road in the development could be extended by about 30 feet, and a bus could make a T-turn.

Rainforest programs highlight Botanic Garden's new course

With the opening of the Smithsonian Institution's Traveling Exhibit, "Tropical Rainforests: A Disappearing Treasure" at the Chicago Botanic Garden on Jan. 4, 1993, several rainforest programs have been scheduled as part of the Chicago Botanic Garden's fall course guide. The rainforest exhibit will run through March 28.

The first program, "Costa Rican Odyssey," will be a lecture presented by the Friends of Cerros de Escazu of Costa Rica, which is an organization trying to preserve the natural environment of the Escazu area. The featured speaker will be William Burger, Ph.D., curator of botany at the Field Museum of Natural History. Burger will present a visual adventure of the incredible diversity of Costa Rica's flowering plants.

A series of "Rainforest Readings" are also scheduled for the fall. This series of four discussions will be led by Carol LaChapelle, writer and teacher, and will cover an anthology of readings to develop a better understanding of the tropical rainforest.

A lecture entitled "Living with the Rainforest in the Twenty-First Century" will cover the issue of how people can learn to co-exist with the rainforest. The lecture is sponsored by the Chicago Rainforest Action Group and will feature international speakers.

There will also be a program on rainforests for 7 to 9 year-olds as part of the series of children's programs. "Rainforest Wonders" will include a walk through the Botanic Garden's tropical greenhouse and vivid jungle videotapes.

In addition to the rainforest programs, the course guide includes classes in horticulture, landscape design, nature and botanical crafts.

Among the 12 classes offered in horticulture are a session on fall garden care, a herbal harvest workshop, starting and building a rock garden, a discussion about wildlife and your garden, two classes about bonsai and three classes about perennials.

Four courses are offered on landscape design, including "Bulbs for Your Garden" which will introduce participants to the best bulbs for Chicago area gardens and a three-day workshop about landscape design and graphics for residential and small commercial properties.

Several walks are scheduled as part of the nature courses. They are an English Walled Garden Walk, a Fall Color Walk and a series of Fall Bird Walks in which participants can learn about Neotropical birds that migrate through the Botanic Garden to summer in North America and spend winter in the tropics.

The botanical craft courses include basket-making, flower arranging, papermaking and holiday crafts. The holiday crafts include a potpourri holiday workshop and a session on making everlasting dried holiday wreaths.

Family programs such as a desert walk in the Garden's cactus greenhouse and children's programs such as "Prairie Days," a session that teaches about America's natural prairie heritage, are also listed in the course guide.

Two tours are offered as well. They are a trip to the Fernwood Botanic Garden and the Tabor Hill Winery in southwestern Michigan and a walking tour of the Chicago Botanic Garden's outdoor sculpture.

The new course guide also includes three symposia: "Managing Stream Landscapes," "Perennials: Beyond the Border" and "Sacred Spaces."

To obtain a copy of the September to December course guide, call (708) 835-8261.

Mid-American regions orchid show set

Pruning: It means more than an annual haircut

If Lake County homeowners think that pruning is merely a seasonal "hair-cut" for plants, trees and shrubs, then you're probably not getting all that you can from your landscape.

The Garden Council suggests making sure you know exactly why you are pruning before taking shears in hand. Have a plan in mind and remember that not all plants are pruned at the same time or for the same reason.

Prune with a purpose

The foremost purpose for pruning is to maintain a healthy plant by correcting defects. The removal of dead, injured or diseased wood should be done as soon as possible. These limbs when left on shrubs and trees, invite pest attacks and disease that eventually threaten the entire plant.

Once dead wood is eliminated, tackle superfluous growth that might eventually spoil the appearance of your plant. Remove lower branches that have been shaded out. If one branch grows directly above the other, remove one of them to give the other access to light. If one branch crosses another or rubs against it, remove the offender. Cut out branches that grow into the plant.

Also remove water sprouts—vigorous branches that grow stiffly upward in the interior of the plant. If a young tree forks into two leaders, remove one while it is small to preserve the upright form of the tree and prevent possible splitting later.

Dense shrubs need to be thinned out periodically to make sure the inner and lower branches receive the sunlight and air necessary for survival.

Regular pruning is necessary to control plant size. Even overgrown trees and shrubs can be reduced with careful thinning. It's best to call in an expert for large tree work, but you can easily maintain small trees and shrubs by cutting back branches to a well-positioned side branch or bud. To direct growth upward, cut to a bud or branch on the inside of the branch you are trimming; to spread the plant outward, cut to an outward-facing bud or branch.

Make the cut just above a bud, being careful not to leave a stub. To remove an undesired limb, make the cut just outside the swollen area, where the branch meets the main stem.

These correct pruning techniques will quicken the healing process and minimize the chance for infection.

Flowering shrubs

Flowering shrubs have their own special pruning schedule guided by blooms. Shrubs that form their flower buds one year prior to bloom (azaleas, forsythias and rhododendrons), should be pruned one to two weeks after the blossoms have fallen. That allows the shrubs the time necessary to set next season's flower buds before winter begins. A fall pruning of these plants sacrifices next year's flowers.

Shrubs that blossom in the summer or fall (buddleia, tamarix, and summer flowering spirea), can be pruned in the early spring or late fall. If you choose to prune them in fall, wait until they have become dormant.

Evergreens

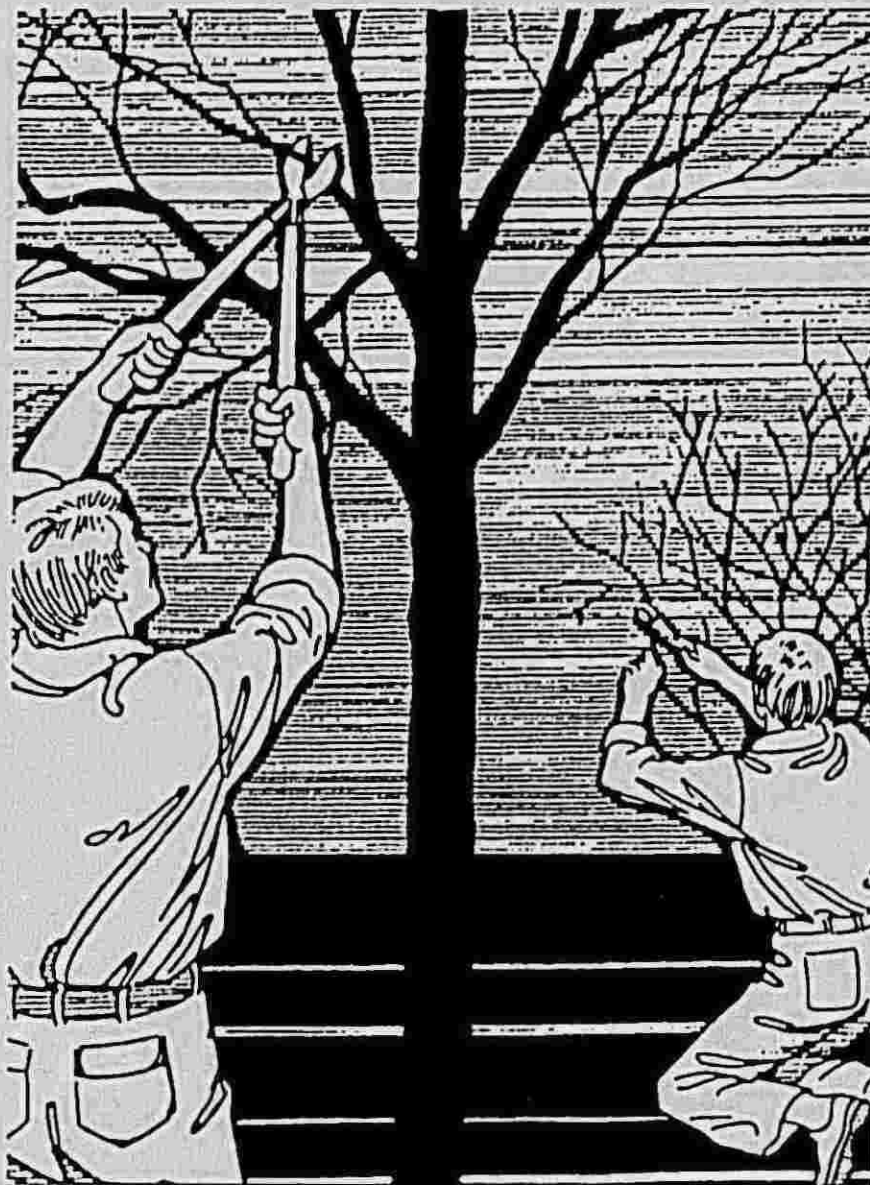

The pruning of evergreen trees and shrubs varies by particular groups and species. Flowering evergreens (hollies, heaths and mountain laurels) follow the same pruning as for deciduous flowering shrubs, while non-flowering evergreens like hemlocks, yews and junipers can be reshaped as much as you like. However, some needled conifers grow so slowly, they rarely need to be cut back.

Spruces and firs are seldom pruned except to remove one of the twin leaders that might develop after an injury. Pines likewise are seldom pruned when allowed to grow as forest trees or massive specimens, but they are easily shaped into picturesque forms (bonsai or giant bonsai) or thinned out to enhance or frame a view.

Limb removal can be done anytime but shearing of new growth should only be done in early to mid-summer. Size can be controlled, and branching encouraged, by shortening the "candles" of new growth when they have attained full length in late spring.

Traditionally, pruning has been regarded as a late fall/winter gardening activity because the form of the plant is easily observed at this time of year. However, pruning can be done whenever the saw is sharp. Then you can be assured of healthy, well-shaped plants all year round. The Garden Council suggests consulting a local nursery for the answers to any individual pruning questions.

Green shoppers help improve homes

Each day one hears more and more news about the environmental impact of the products one uses and the way they live. The good thing about this news is that there are so many ways to reduce and eliminate the environmental damage everyone does. Beginning at home—not only by recycling all the products, from furniture to groceries—that are environmentally friendly.

When one begins to change purchasing habits, individual companies and manufacturers notice. We all can make a difference. For example, a relatively small number of customer complaints about the use of plastic foam caused a major fast-food chain to completely change its product packaging to reduce environmental waste.

According to environmental experts, one thing everyone can do to help save the planet is to look for products that are not harmful to the environment, and buy from companies with good environmental records. In other words, become a "green shopper."

Some tips in shopping for "green" items include:

- Purchase energy-efficient air conditioners, refrigerators, washers, dryers and dishwashers. These appliances will also reduce electric and gas bills.

- To cut down on water waste, install low-flow shower heads, faucet aerators and toilet dams. They can be bought at most local hardware stores.

- Give up aerosol sprays which destroy the ozone layer of the atmosphere.

- When purchasing a home fire extinguisher, look for halon-free models. Halon extinguishers have 10 times the ozone-damaging potential of the chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) found in aerosols, refrigeration and other products.

- Avoid furniture made from exotic, endangered woods such as mahogany, teak, ramin, lauan and meranti, as most are imported from the tropical rain forests. Instead, check to see that the furniture is made from one of the more abundant North American woods, such as oak, maple and pine.

- Never purchase furniture made with plastic foam cushioning. Almost all foam cushioning contains CFCs or methylene chloride.

- When buying groceries or personal products at the supermarket or drugstore, look for products made from recycled materials and packaged in recyclable or reusable containers. Avoid products with excessive packaging or made with harmful chemicals (like CFCs). And don't forget to recycle paper grocery bags or use canvas shopping bags.

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Lakeland
Newspapers

buy a visitor pass in order to use it. I think it's about time Round Lake got what the rest of the people around here have--a beach, or at least a boat ramp for the residents. When you buy a house they tell you what you are going to get, but after you buy it--it's too late.

Form a separate district

The Libertyville High School referendum is going on the ballot again, and I believe the true issue is not being properly addressed. The problem of overcrowding will continue, and we'll have to keep building until it is finally recognized that Vernon Hills needs to form its own district. When the Cunco property is developed, which is an unfortunate inevitability, what will happen then? Do we really want a huge high school for our kids? I realize that Libertyville will lose part of the Hawthorne Mall tax base if the towns form separate districts, but wouldn't the increased building costs offset the supposed advantage? Besides the simple economics, let's examine the other factors involved--namely, how best to serve the students, families and communities.

Don't scream for him

Hi, I'm calling in regard to the Party concert at Gurnee Mills on Thursday, Aug. 27. I'd like to tell all the girls that went to that concert who were screaming for one of the members of the Party to "shut up" because he is on drugs. I don't see how they can like people like that.

A solution for our problems

You want to know why America is messed up? Here's why: the Democratic Congress, the legalization of abortion and getting away from Christian values. If everybody went to church and we went back to the white, Anglo-saxon, protestant ways that we built our country on--if we could get back to that, we wouldn't have the problems we have today. Thank you.

Thoughts on the bike ban

I'm calling in regard to the Antioch bicycle ban in the downtown area. Why didn't they just try to talk to the kids first and explain bicycle safety? Why jump the gun and have the police crack down on these kids for riding on the sidewalks? They are setting a bad example for the young bike riders by having the police intimidate them. It teaches the kids at a young age the wrong attitude toward the police, which will only make the police officers' jobs tougher when these kids get older and try to elude the police by hiding and being sneaky. A problem no one does anything about is the driving habits of some of the older folks on the streets. I'm a 35-year-old bike rider; I can't tell you how many times

I've almost been hit by older drivers who barely have control of their vehicles--and who get on the sidewalks instead of staying on the streets. Their licenses should be taken away if they can't keep their cars on the streets.

The answer is still "No"

This is in regards to Libertyville High School. The superintendent and his board should go back to school and learn what the word "No" means. They teach it to the students, but I don't think they know what it is themselves. They put up a green house for rooms; they didn't even have enough brains to make it a little red schoolhouse. The answer to the vote is still "No," regardless of how many little greenhouses you put up there.

Senior citizen asks for help

I am a resident of Lake Villa on Oakwood Avenue, by the sewage plant, and I'm a disabled senior citizen. I would like to know if the village would come up here, cut the bushes that are hanging over the road and pick up all the beer cans along here because it looks worse than Herbie's Junk Yard. And, I was wondering if the mayor could take a ride up here and check it out because her road is immaculate. Thank you.

Punishment too severe

Hi, I'm from Antioch. This is a response to the caller who called about Tom Fisher suing the village of Antioch. First of all, he is not suing the village; he is suing Chief Miller as a person and as a police officer. Money involved will not come out of our taxes; it will come out of insurance. The other two people, Susan Mitschneider and Mike Culat are also suing Miller, not the village. Even if they were guilty, the punishment was way too severe for the crime. I could see them getting a slap on the wrist or getting suspended, but getting fired? That's ridiculous.

Time for a change

Hi, I'm from Antioch. Where is the Antioch leadership? The trustees and politicians are all at the country clubs and golf courses. All the departments of Antioch are there also--it's one, big happy family. There is too, too much nepotism. I'm in the midst of it; I see it all. What time is it? It's time for a change. We need new trustees and politicians. No more meetings behind closed doors which are anonymous.

Land of the free

I'm calling in regard to the Speak English message in the Aug. 28th issue. I quote "This is America; so speak English." This is supposed to be the land of the free, where we believe in the First Amendment--not Germany, 1942.

Underfunded pensions

I would like the public to know that teachers have paid 1.5 percent of their salary towards Social Security since 1989, of which they are not entitled to withdraw any benefits. Our pension is deducted from our salary, to be matched by the state--but each year the state has underfunded the amount.

Making a Point

St. Joseph's hosts blood drive

Every three seconds someone needs blood. In recognition of the needs, St. Joseph Catholic Church, North Lincoln Avenue in Round Lake is hosting a blood drive on Sunday, Sept. 6. The drive will be held in the parish hall from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Blood drive chairperson Terry Landwehr asks the public to stop by and give blood that day.

September is National Cholesterol Education Month. In addition to providing every blood donor with a free cholesterol screening, LifeSource will be giving all September blood donors a free packet including cholesterol control educational information and coupons. Teaming up with LifeSource to promote volunteer blood donations this month are Dole, Healthy Choice, Dominick's and the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute.

LifeSource reports a chronic shortage of blood. Blood types O and B are especially short, but all blood types are asked to volunteer.

All LifeSource donors in the Chicagoland area who donate through Sept. 8, at mobile blood drives are eligible to win: an overnight stay for two at the North Shore Hilton and Towers in Skokie.
